School Funds Voted For San Rafael, Sausalito Districts

Bond Issue, Tax Proposals Pass Despite Light Election Turnouts

Voters in San Rafael and Sausalito school districts approved all proposals on their ballots yesterday—including a $2,800,000 bond issue for the San Rafael High School District—in light turnouts at the polls.

The vote:

San Rafael High School District bond issue, yes, 2,958; no, 1,188. Total registered voters, 15,901.

San Rafael High School District continuation of the $1.25 general purpose tax limit for an indefinite period, yes, 2,951; no, 1,199.

San Rafael Elementary District, 25-cent increase in the general purpose tax limit from $1.50 to $1.75 for an indefinite period, yes, 1,783; no, 1,176. Total registered voters, 11,847.

'ABOUT PAR'

Sausalito School District, continuation of the present $1.75 basic tax for another three years, yes, 628; no, 129. Total registered voters, 3,654.

The turnout of voters was light, but probably about par for a special election, San Rafael Supt. Frank L. Lucas said. In the high school district, 26 per cent of the voters cast their ballots, and in the elementary district the vote was 24 per cent of those eligible.

In Sausalito, only 20 per cent of registered voters went to the polls.

WORKERS PRAISED

Lucas gave credit for passage of San Rafael's proposals to the citizens' committee and volunteers who "got out and rang doorbells, they did a fine job."

The superintendent said he was especially pleased with the vote in the San Jose Elementary District, where the high school bond issue passed 133 to 51. Some residents of that district had been concerned over the possibility of joining the Novato district and reluctant to commit themselves on the bonds issue, he said.

A few precincts in San Rafael didn't get the necessary two-thirds majority to pass the bond issue. Voters at the city hall precinct turned it down, but almost all the rest gave the proposal a two-thirds vote or came within a few votes of it.

STRONG VOTE

There was a strong vote at San Pedro School for the bond issue, 238 to 76. The Dixie Elementary School District also went for it by a big margin.

The elementary tax hike passed by a substantial margin. Only West End and Short Schools and city hall precinct voters turned it down. All others had the necessary majority votes.

In Sausalito, approval of the continuation of the present tax rate will provide money for continued operation of the schools, according to Supt. Marcus F. Davis.

The San Rafael bond issue will provide money to enlarge Terra Linda High School, expand San Rafael High facilities if necessary, and possibly pur-

3 Jailed After Bizarre Holdup In Sausalito

Sausalito police nabbed three San Francisco brothers last night, minutes after one of them allegedly held a gun on two women in a car outside Zack's-by-the-Bay at Bridgeway and Turney street.

Lodged in the Marin County Jail for investigation of armed robbery and carrying a concealed weapon were William Swintek, 22, and his brothers Robert John, 19, and John Robert, 21, all of 577 Geary boulevard, San Francisco.

They were nabbed, according to Police Officer Peter A. Lampros, because they permitted one of the women to re-enter Zack's "to find her spectacles."

Although one of the trio allegedly grabbed the keys from the ignition of the car, and another menaced the women with a gun, at no time did they demand money, according to Lampros.

The bizarre "holdup" started at 11:15 last night as Mrs. Robert Blue of 130 Marina boulevard, San Rafael, and Mrs. Jean Johnson of 83-D Beach road, Belvedere, got into Mrs. Johnson's car outside Zack's.

"Before Mrs. Johnson could

School Loan On Ballot At Larkspur

Larkspur School District voters will be asked May 3 to approve a $498,000 state loan proposal, as well as a $412,000 bond issue.

In special session last night, the district voted to place the loan measure on the ballot in conjunction with the previously scheduled bond election.

"If both pass, the district will be in a position to furnish classroom needs for increasing enrollments over the next three years, Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel said today.

The district will become eligible to apply for state aid only if authorized by the voters to bond itself to capacity.

Escapee Confesses Slaying Of Officer

SAN BERNARDINO (UPI)—James Kendrick, 29, San Quentin Prison escapee, today confessed murdering a California Highway Patrolman who had stopped his speeding car.

Sheriff Frank Bland said Kendrick signed a statement admitting he shot Officer Richard Duvall, 26, Feb. 22 because he thought he was being pursued for a market robbery here.

Kendrick escaped from San Quentin Dec. 7, probably by hiding in a laundry truck which was leaving the prison. He was recaptured Monday night at Shell Beach after exchanging shots with San Luis Obispo County officers at a motel in which Kendrick had holed up.

Duvall had reported by radio he was chasing a speeder and apparently did not know of the robbery. His body was found alongside his patrol car by a passing motorist.

Bland said Kendrick admitted holding up the market and driving toward Las Vegas, Nev. After the shooting he drove to Victorville, left his stolen car and stole a light truck. He then returned to San Bernardino, where he left the truck. He said he went by bus to Los Angeles International Airport and flew to Reno, Nev.

Kendrick was taken from his cell in county jail this morning and returned to the scene of the slaying on the desert near Victorville. Bland said he had agreed to re-enact the crime so it could be recorded on film for authorities.

Bland said Kendrick had not been questioned fully in regard to four other suspects being held in connection with the patrolman's slaying.

These included Raymond Arnold Reese, 23, Riverside; his girl friend, Mrs. Sherlyn Jeanette Young, 21, former San Bernardino beauty contest winner, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mrs. Betty Jo Frame, 26, and Boyd Frame, 29, both of Stateline Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Young told officers she and Kendrick had stopped one day last month and fired some shots into a yucca tree on the desert. She took officers to the spot and several slugs were recovered. Tests showed they were fired by the same gun that killed Duvall.

Title Firm Executive Dies Of Heart Attack

Joseph W. Elliston, 49, executive vice president and manager of Trans Western Title Co., San Rafael, died yesterday at San Rafael General Hospital of a heart attack after collapsing in his car.

Elliston, in the title business most of his adult life, was a resident of Marin since 1929. He was stricken while sitting in his auto at the company parking lot at 1210 Fifth avenue.

He and Dr. Earle M. Young, a dentist, and attorney Lawrence E. Wright formed Trans Western in 1955 with Elliston as the active manager.

Elliston started with Pacific Title Co., in San Jose, and then worked for San Rafael Land Title Co., San Rafael, until

Brown Urges Abolition Of Death Penalty

Capital Punishment Labeled Failure In Deterring Crime

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in the face of an uproar over the Caryl Chessman case, called upon an obvious reluctant Legislature today to abolish the death penalty in California.

Capital punishment, he said, has been a gross failure.

'HASN'T PROTECTED'

"Beyond its horror and incivility," he said, "it has neither protected the inocent nor deterred the wicked."

Instead, he said it has primarily taken the lives of "the weak, the poor, the ignorant" and racial minorities.

The governor, in a special message, acknowledged the resistance to his proposal but urged the state's lawmakers to debate the issue "with reason and restraint."

MUM ON CHESSMAN

There was no mention of Chessman, the condemned Los Angeles lovers lane prowler who has fought off execution for almost 12 of his 38 years.

Brown provoked bitter criticism when he gave Chessman a 60-day reprieve Feb. 19, hours before his execution, and then announced he would toss the death penalty question to the Legislature.

Chairman Edwin J. Regan (D-Weaverville) of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which probably will get first crack at the bill next week, said he saw practically no chance that the measure would ever reach the floor.

SEES DIFFICULTY

Brown himself conceded yesterday he anticipated great difficulty in outlawing the death penalty this year because of the heated controversy over Chessman.

The repeal would mean life imprisonment for 24 prisoners awaiting execution. They include Chessman, convicted of kidnap-robbery with bodily harm—a capital offense here—involving sexual indignities against two young women.

The governor called the Legislature into special session to consider his recommendation.

The governor, in his message, said he was asking the ban against executions in California "as an act of public conscience and from the experience of over a decade and a half in law enforcement work."

Hayden To Wed?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Actor-seafarer Sterling Hayden will marry Catherine McConnell, 28, New York divorcee, within two weeks, the San Francisco News-Call Bulletin reported today.

ONE OF THE INJURED — An injured woman is carried from the top of an overturned car after the flaming collision between a Santa Fe passenger train and an oil tank truck near Bakersfield last night. She was lifted out of a window, on top after the car rolled on its side. At least 14 died. Many more were hurt. (AP Wirephoto)

Hunt For Victims Continues

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—Rescue workers wielding cutting torches today probed the incredibly twisted wreckage of a Santa Fe passenger train, seeking victims possibly undiscovered.

The speeding Chief, headed for Chicago, collided at a crossing with a two-trailer oil truck last night with a mighty, flaming blast that set coaches afire and shriveled the locomotive.

FEAR MORE DEAD

By dawn 14 bodies had been recovered. The coroner said there could be more.

The Santa Fe said there were 76 passengers and a crew of 15 on the train. Sixty-five were injured, with 45 of them treated at hospitals. Most suffered from burns. Three were reported in critical conditions.

The San Francisco Chief No. 2, had left San Francisco at 11:15 a.m. and was rolling through lush cotton and alfalfa farmland about seven miles west of this city.

VISIBILITY FAIR

The time was 5:10 p.m.; the speed, a brakeman said, about 75 miles per hour; the visibility fair—a cloudy sunset.

Investigators said the oil rig driver, John Garrett, apparently ignored a reflectorized warning sign at the railroad crossing. They said he paused only momentarily — but did not make a full stop—before driving his cargo of more than 7,000 gallons of crude oil onto the tracks.

Witnesses told the investigators the driver seemed to turn his vehicle in a direction parallel to the tracks as the train bore down on him. Then he fled the cab.

The rear oil trailer wrapped around the locomotive and exploded with a thunderous eruption seen four miles away.

The forward oil tanker was thrown 100 yards, but it did not catch fire.

The train veered crazily on, its four diesel units aflame, its forward trucks knocked off

Death Toll In Quake Reported At 3,000

AGADIR, Morocco (AP)—Stunned survivors streamed from earthquake-ravaged Agadir today. A red Cross official estimated the toll at more than 3,000 dead and more than 5,000 injured.

The grim casualty prediction —2,000 more dead than the initial Moroccan government estimate—was made by Dr. Albert A. Rainhard, who flew to Agadir from International Red Cross headquarters in Geneva. The U. S. Air Force, making these estimates public, said they were conservative.

Pleading cries rose from the rubble of Agadir, and rescue workers probed the ruins for unfound survivors and bodies.

A massive airlift was in progress, carrying the injured northward to hospitals in other African cities.

Europe, America and North Africa mobilized aid for the Atlantic Coast resort shattered Monday night by two earthquakes and a tidal wave.

Roads leading north were lined with dazed Moroccans quitting their ruined homes. Some straggled along on foot, others on donkeys or horses.

While airlift planes droned in and out on their missions of mercy, Moroccan, French and American trucks rolled into the disaster areas in increasing numbers.

It was reported in Rabat that King Mohammed V had decided to raze the few remaining buildings—all cracked or suffering other damage — and completely rebuild the city.

Evacuation of the shattered city—population 40,000 before the quake—was ordered. Thousands poured into the surrounding fields for the night.

Anti-Ike Riot Broken Up In Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Police used tear gas and high pressure fire hoses today to break up a student demonstration against President Eisenhower shortly after his arrival from Chile.

An undetermined number of persons were injured.

The incident took place as Eisenhower's motorcade passed the School of Architecture of the University of Montevideo on the way from the airport.

In another part of the city, at the headquarters of the university itself, students barricaded themselves inside the buildings. Army trucks armed with light field artillery and heavy machine guns moved

WILLEM VAN RIE
Verdict brought smile

Radio Operator Acquitted Of Slaying On Ship

BOSTON (UPI)—Dutch radio operator Willem Van Rie was acquitted today by a jury that deliberated all night on charges that he murdered his shipboard paramour.

The foreman of the all-male jury returned the verdict in a tense courtroom after more than 15 hours' deliberation which began at 5:43 p.m. yesterday.

The 31-year-old Van Rie was cleared of all counts in the death of pretty Chicago divorcee Lynn Kauffman, 23, whose body was found washed up on a Boston Harbor island Sept. 19. That was the day after the SS Utrecht left here for New York on the final leg of a 44-day voyage from Singapore.

At a news conference shortly after his acquittal, Van Rie said he believed Miss Kauffman "committed suicide. I am convinced of it."

Van Rie's dark-haired wife, Nella, 31, who came from Holland to be with him after his arrest, burst into tears as her husband was led from the courtroom a free man.

The defendant was accused of beating Miss Kauffman severely after an argument in her cabin, dragging her through a porthole and hurling her unconscious over the railing to drown.

He was met by King Mohammad Zahir, the prime minister and foreign minister and Soviet officials, and given a 21-gun salute. Afghan and Soviet children handed him bouquets of flowers.

12 Trampled to Death

YOKOHAMA, Japan (UPI) — Twelve persons were killed and 13 were injured tonight in a stampede to enter Yokohama's civic auditorium for a concert.

Fans had been lined up outside since early afternoon.

HILLSIDE, N.J. (AP)—The thief who stole a talking mynah bird from Arthur Brittman's pet shop yesterday probably regrets it.

The bird can only say: "Hello. You are a very bad boy."

Missile Shot Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has canceled plans to shoot a Super-Atlas nearly 9,000 miles from Cape Canaveral past the tip of Africa over the Indian Ocean.

One unconfirmed report was that President Eisenhower personally turned down the idea.

The Air Force has had the beefed-up Atlas missile on a launching pad at Canaveral for days. Actual firing times were set several times and then postponed because of weather conditions.

It's Cold and Snowy

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The coldest weather of a miserable winter embraced two-thirds of the nation today while another blanket of snow unrolled across the Plains states.

More than four inches of new snow were predicted for Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Southern Illinois and Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Lenten Season Opens

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII today blessed the ashes used in Vatican ceremonies marking Ash Wednesday and the beginning of the Roman Catholic Lenten season.

The ashes, made from palms, were sprinkled with holy water, incensed and blessed by the pope at 7 a.m., before his private mass.

Negro Students to Jail

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventy-five Negro college students were in a Nashville, Tenn., jail today awaiting trial on disorderly conduct charges growing out of recent lunch counter demonstrations.

They were among 77 who returned to jail voluntarily yesterday while other Negro students and young people were staging large demonstrations in three Deep South states as part of the campaign for equal rights at eating places.

The students surrendered their bonds as city court continued the slow moving process of holding separate trials for demonstrators arrested in downtown Nashville Saturday.

Dogs Menace Children

GARY, Ind. (UPI) — Police guarded a suburban neighborhood today against a snarling pack of 200 dogs that menaced children trying to get to school.

Authorities fired shotguns into the dog pack yesterday to drive them from the playground of the John Foster Dulles Elementary School in nearby Calumet Township.

Dog warden Vito Manno said about 15 or 20 dogs were killed and another 10 were captured.

Manno said most of the dogs are mongrels let loose by people living in the populous cities around Lake Michigan.

Traffic Deaths Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths rose 4 per cent in January compared to January, 1959, the National Safety Council reports.

The increase, from 2,760 to 2,870, centered in six populous states, the council said yesterday, that collectively accounted for 192 more deaths in January this year.

The six states are Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, New Jersey, and South Carolina.

PUSAN, Korea (UPI) — Fire raced through a rubber-shoe factory in this South Korean port early today, killing at least 52 Koreans and sending 44 to the hospital. Damage was estimated at $400,000.

Except for two men, all of the dead were girls employed in the factory. The injured were burned, trampled in the rush for the exits, or hurt when they jumped from second or third floor windows in the plant.

Witness List Grows

DOWNIEVILLE (UPI) — The number of prosecution witnesses presented in the Larry Lord Motherwell murder trial stood at 49 as today's proceedings began.

In addition to this mass of testimony, there are now 65 prosecution exhibits.

The state is seeking to prove — through admittedly circumstantial evidence — that Motherwell killed Mrs. Pearl Putney of Washington, D.C., in August, 1958, after a cross-country tour. Almost exactly a year later, bones identified as Mrs. Putney's were found near this little gold mining town.

NATO Force With Nuclear Arms Set

PARIS (AP)—The North Atlantic alliance will create a unified U. S.-British-French force armed with nuclear weapons, Gen, Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander in Europe, said today.

Each country would provide one battalion for the force, which would be under a unified commander and staff.

The force would be armed with conventional as well as nuclear weapons, Norstad said, adding that he wants to have the widest range of capability.

Norstad said the new unit would be a mobile task force designed for use wherever it is militarily or politically necessary throughout NATO.

He told a news conference it had been firmly decided to move ahead in this field.

Board Overrules Commission—Again

Marin County's personnel commission is in a "poor morale status because everything they recommend gets turned down," County Administrator Donald A. Jensen told the board of supervisors yesterday.

He warned that it was impossible for the commission to operate the way it is going now with personnel rules not jointly agreed to by the commission and the supervisors.

The board — after hearing Jensen point out that it had overruled the personnel commission in about a dozen cases in the last six months—went ahead and overruled it again.

The supervisors, by a 4-to-1 vote, approved a request of the auditor's department to give permanent status to an "extra hire" employee, Helen Sussman.

Mrs. Vera Schultz voted against the request because, she said, it was an evasion of a personnel commission ruling.

The commission, in accordance with its rules, had recommended that Mrs. Sussman not be given permanent status.

She was hired temporarily six months ago to work and took an examination, but several eligible candidates now rank ahead of her on the civil service list. The auditor's office recently requested she be appointed to a permanent position as intermediate account clerk because she had "proven to be a most satisfactory employee."

The supervisors agreed it would be a good idea to get together with the personnel commission to review the rules under which the commission operates. The commission has adopted these rules, but the board has never taken action to approve or disapprove them.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said the commission had asked him to give an opinion on its rules and then it will determine the proper method for coming before the board.

Jensen said there were cases where persons who had flunked the civil service examinations were still on the payroll as "extra hire."

He noted, however, that Mrs. Sussman's case was special because she had passed the examination. "Certainly she has done a good job," he said.

"If the board doesn't agree with the personnel commission, the rules should be changed," declared Jensen.

The famed coals of Newcastle, England, were burned as late as the 12th Century only by poor people who couldn't afford wood.

TEACHER ASSISTANT ON THE JOB

Mrs. Sara Soares, one of eight noontime teacher assistants hired by the Novato Unified School District, is shown here on the job at Marion School where she will supervise pupils during lunch hour. The aides were hired last week by the district to insure a full lunch hour for regular teachers. More than 30 were interviewed for the eight jobs. (Independent-Journal photo)

TV Debate Slated On Death Penalty

Marin County Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich will appear on television with three others tomorrow night to debate the question: "Should capital punishment be abolished in California?"

The half hour discussion will be over KPIX (channel 5) from 6:30 to 7 p.m.

Weissich and Leo Friedman, prominent San Francisco criminal defense attorney, will give reasons why capital punishment should be retained. Opposing them will be Rev. James A. Pike, Episcopal bishop of California, and Alfonso Zirpoli, San Francisco attorney and supervisor.

Board Orders Quentin Sewage Problem Study

The Marin County Board of Supervisors decided yesterday to explore a way to solve the San Quentin Village sewage disposal problem by tying in a line to the state's treatment facilities at San Quentin Prison.

It asked the health department, county counsel and department of public works to work on the problem and find out:

1. What the state will charge for treating the sewage.
2. What it will cost the residents for construction of a connecting line.

The health department has told the supervisors a health hazard exists because of the disposal of raw sewage in the bay from homes at San Quentin.

The state has indicated to the health department it will agree to give service, provided a public district is created to represent the residents.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan said that unless the residents voluntarily form such a district, the supervisors can do either of two things: Form a sewer maintenance district or form a special assessment district.

Modern Italy became a reality in 1860 when King Victor Emmanuel I unified several Italian states.

Ross Building Permits

Building activity was slow in Ross during February, Police Chief Joseph A. Regoni reported. Only one building permit was issued during the month, for a guest house to cost $7,365.

More Facts Listed On Vet Exemptions

Do you have a question about veterans' tax exemptions?

The Marin County assessor's office has all the answers.

In fact, the assessor, Bert W. Broemmel, has compiled the essential information and plans to publish it in pamphlet form.

As a public service, he has made his draft available to the Independent-Journal for advance publication.

The final installment follows:

1. If the veteran is living, and out of the services, and qualifies under sections A and B above, either the veteran or his spouse may file.

2. If the veteran is deceased the exemption may be claimed by the widow if resident in this state, or if there is no such widow, by the widowed mother if resident in this state.

3. If the veteran is living, but still serving in the armed forces, his nearest of kin or authorized agent may file on his behalf.

4. Pensioned widows, fathers and mothers resident in this state of persons who served in the armed forces in accordance with Article XIII, section 1¼ of the constitution of this state.

E. TIME FOR FILING:

1. Between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in May of each year.

2. However, since the application for exemption is combinded with a property statement that is due on April 1, it is urged that you file before April 1.

3. Failure to file within the prescribed time constitutes a waiver of the exemption.

F. WHERE TO FILE:

1. All veterans resident in this county desiring exemption on property located either in Marin County or in another county of this state must file application with the county assessor, courthouse, San Rafael.

2. Veterans desiring their exemption to apply against city taxes on property owned in the cities of Fairfax and San Anselmo must also file separate applications with the city assessors of those cities.

3. Exemption on City Taxes is automatically applied by the county assessor on properties located in the cities of Belvedere, Corte Madera, Larkspur, Mill Valley, Novato, Ross, San Rafael and Sausalito and veterans with properties in these cities need only file the one application with the county assessor. However for 1960-61 only, veterans desiring exemption applied to personal property not secured by real property located in Sausalito should also file in Sausalito.

G. MANNER OF FILING:

1. Those who have not previously filed with the Marin County assessor should appear in person at the assessor's office, courthouse, San Rafael, with the necessary documents to establish service requirements. (Also see Sections B and D, above).

2. Those who were granted an exemption the previous year receive an application form in the mail about the first Monday in March. They may complete the application form and return it by mail to the assessor, who subsequently acknowledges receipt thereof. Also see paragraph 4, below.

3. Those who have filed previously in Marin County but either did not file or were not granted an exemption last year may either call at the assessor's office in person, or request that an application form be sent to them. Completed applications may be returned by mail. Also see paragraph 4, below.

4. Those who own property in other counties of this state must file applications in person with the assessor of the county of residence. A separate application must be filed for each county in which taxable property is located. Each statement must list all of the property of the veteran and spouse, whether or not located in the county where the statement is filed, and whether taxable or not.

5. CAUTIONS:

a. In filling in applications, all questions must be answered. Incomplete applications will have to be returned for completion.

b. All questions pertain to your status as of noon on the first Monday of March. Answer questions carefully and accurately. Under the law, omissions, or understatement of assets are punishable by penalties of perjury.

c. File early—only those applications which are complete in all respects and filed prior to 5 p. m. on the first Monday in May will be accepted for determination of exemption. If you file after April 1 and the application is not complete, you may not have time to return an amended application prior to the legal deadline.

H. ELIGIBLE PROPERTY:

1. Real Property (land and the improvements thereon): ownership must appear in the name of the applicant veteran in the official records of the county recorder as of noon on the first Monday in March prior to the tax year in which exemption is to apply.

2. Personal Property (household furnishings, equipment, etc.): the exemption can only be allowed to the person assessed for the property as of the first Monday in March.

3. If a male veteran does not own property to the amount of $1,000 or more, the unused balance of the $1,000 exemption may be applied to the property of the wife. If the veteran is a woman, owning property valued at less than $1,000, she cannot apply any part of her unused exemption against property owned by the husband.

4. The $1,000 exemption is first applied to taxable property in the county of residence. If property owned in Marin either by a veteran or his spouse, is less than $1,000, then the balance may be applied to property owned in other counties, except that a woman veteran may only apply such balance to property owned by her. Also see section F-4.

I. TAXES INVOLVED:

1. Regular ad valorem taxes on real and personal property levied by city and county governments, school and most other districts.

2. Exemption does not apply to special assessments levied against property for improvements or special services.

Red Cross Asks More Interest In First Aid

March is, traditionally, Red Cross Month for the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The chapter, which is one of Marin's United Fund agencies, is issuing an appeal this month, according to publicity chairman Mrs. Lowell F. Jett, for more persons to study first aid methods and to become first aid instructors.

Requests for courses and demonstrations have doubled the past year, Mrs. Jett said. She said the Red Cross is concerned over the "necessity for school bus drivers to possess a valid first aid certificate, issued within 60 days following the issuance of his or her bus driver's certificate."

Mrs. A. C. Anderson, executive director for Marin County Red Cross, said there are not enough instructors to conduct the number of courses needed.

Persons interested in taking first aid courses or in becoming first aid instructors for the Red Cross, Mrs. Jett said, may apply at the Red Cross chapter at 712 Fifth street, San Rafael.

San Rafael Man Ordered To Jail

Woodrow Wilson Popp, 46, of 226 Union street, San Rafael, must spend five days in jail and pay a $250 fine for drunken driving last Jan. 6 on Highway 101.

He was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court. If Popp cannot pay the fine, he must serve an additional 25 days in jail.

Popp had a prior conviction for drunken driving in Merced in July of 1957.

Elvin Lee Floyd, 38, of Santa Rosa drew six months probation and a $150 fine for his first drunken driving conviction. He was caught on Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo on Jan. 22.

Man Who Smoked In Bed Fined, Put On Probation

Norman Joseph O'Brien, 26, San Rafael surgical technician who smoked in bed and set fire to his mattress, must pay a $25 fine and remain on 90 days probation.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court sentenced O'Brien for a violation of the state Health and Safety Code. He is being held for the state parole officer. O'Brien told police he is on parole from the state medical facility at Vacaville for assaul with intent to rape.

Firemen doused the mattress and bedding fire at O'Brien's upstairs apartment at 714 Mission avenue, San Rafael, about 3 a.m. Monday.

Elmo Francis Sirard, 47, of 724 B street, San Rafael, also drew a $25 fine and six months probation for a similar offense. His bedding caught fire about 7:30 a.m. Monday. The judge ordered Sirard to make restitution for the damages to bedding.

Marin Demo Unit Supports Brown On Death Penalty

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee has voted 14 to 1 in favor of supporting Gov. Edmund G. Brown in his stand opposing capital punishment.

The committee, meeting in the county courthouse, Monday night, passed the motion with little discussion after it was introduced by Mrs. Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley.

Members authorized a letter to be sent to the governor notifying him of the committee's decision.

Mrs. Peter Yarish of Novato announced her resignation from the committee.

Novato Atty. Robert Carrow was elected to succeed Mrs. Yarish, who gave press of business as her reason for leaving the committee.

The Democrats also set up a steering committee to guide forthcoming political campaigns for the next primary and general elections. Mrs. Swadesh, Mrs. Muriel Appenzeller of San Rafael, Harold Morgan and Nathaniel Guyol, president of the Marin Democratic Assembly, were appointed to the committee.

The committee voted in favor of supporting a bill now before the U. S. Senate which would repeal the Connolly Amendment which restricts U. S. participation in the World Court.

DRAKE PHARMACY
810 Sir Francis Drake Blvd.
San Anselmo, Calif.

Dear Public:

First—we'd like to thank you for not only your prescription response to our program—but for the words of encouragement to a revolutionary procedure—advertising the price of prescription drugs.

Second—we would like to emphasize that the advertised drugs are only a minute fraction of the products that have the same low price. They probably represent only 1/1000 of drugs dispensed in prescriptions from this store and have been listed because they are common and easily recognized by the layman.

If it were economically feasible we would publish every possible drug price—prescription and otherwise, and allow you to compare. Naturally, we have set a price that is being copied on the drugs that have been advertised. However, we feel that it is our duty to point out that if your prescription calls for other ingredients—the only way you can be sure that you pay less is to bring your prescription to us.

Drugs listed in this ad are available only on your doctor's prescription. They are same offered anywhere else—as the law requires.

Sincerely,
Drake Pharmacy, Inc.

Terra Linda Home Fire Damage Set At $300

Fire in a Terra Linda home yesterday caused damage estimated at $300.

Terra Linda firemen were called to the home of Capt. and Mrs. Charles Contessa at 234 Orange Blossom lane, at 4:30 p.m. when Mrs. Contessa reported flames had broken out in her bedroom.

Four firemen, including Chief Richard Flaherty donned gas masks to reach the blaze, which was confined to an area behind the bedroom door.

Two Convicts Hurt In Fight

One San Quentin inmate suffered a slashed hand and another a cut cheek in a fight in the prison yard at 10:45 a.m. today.

A guard spotted the fracas and ran to break it up found a knife in the possession of Joe Carnera, 26, who arrived at the prison Monday from Monterey to serve a one-to-20 year sentence for assault with intent to rob, said Capt. Virgil J. O'Malley.

The second prisoner involved in the fight, Peter John Barrlentos, 27, serving five years to life on four consecutive counts of first degree robbery in Santa Clara County, had a minor cut on his left cheek. Carnera's hand was slashed.

shut her door, these two boys were standing there," Mrs. Blue related. "A little later, there were three."

One, she said, snatched the keys from the ignition and stood so Mrs. Johnson could not close the car door. He made conversation "about her handbag and how much her poodle cost," Mrs. Blue related.

And then, declared Mrs. Blue, one of the men held a gun behind Mrs. Johnson's head.

"All I saw was the long black muzzle . . . It shakes you up a little bit."

As the gun menaced Mrs. Johnson, she fumbled in her handbag for her glasses, her companion related.

"I said, 'I'll go and see if you left them in the ladies' room,'" Mrs. Blue recounted.

And the three men let her go.

Inside Zack's, Mrs. Blue told bartender Mike Kilijian three men were holding a gun on her companion outside. Kilijian called police.

Apparently realizing their mistake in allowing Mrs. Blue to re-enter the restaurant, the three men got in a car and drove away, the women related.

As Officer Lampros, responding to the phone call, approached, he saw a car heading south on Bridgeway. Dennis Jensen of San Francisco, on the scene, told him the men in it "had been talking about money and guns."

Lampros gave chase and overhauled the vehicle at Second and Richardson streets. In the car, he found a nine-shot, five-inch .22 caliber revolver with bullets in every chamber.

The men denied any idea of committing a crime with the gun, but gave three different versions of what had happened, Lampros declared.

into the block in front of the university.

The students hung huge banners from the windows of both the School of Architecture and the university saying:

"Out with Yankee imperialism in Latin America" and "Long Live the Cuban rebellion."

The banners were signed by the Federation of Uruguayan University Students. It was at the university two years ago that Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran into hostile demonstrations.

The incidents marred an otherwise exuberant welcome for Eisenhower as he neared the end of his 10-day tour of four Latin American countries. The demonstrations were far worse than anything he had encountered on the trip.

The leftist students federation has protested against the Eisenhower visit as a "show" and a "deliverance" of Uruguay to Wall Street and the International Monetary Fund.

It was to head off threatened student demonstrations in Uruguay that prompted an official of the U.S. State Department to send a note to Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California about the Caryl Chessman case. The U.S. embassy here had reported fears that there might be demonstrations if Chessman were executed for rape and kidnaping, and Chessman was granted a stay.

the tracks by the tremendous impact.

Nine of the 11 cars jackknifed into one another like a row of huge steel dominoes knocked askew.

Flame from the initial explosion swept back the length of the train, but only forward cars in the tangled jumble caught fire. The first three units were charred to blackened rubble.

Eleven hundred feet of track were torn up, some of it twisted into grotesque loops around the shattered cars.

Fifteen ambulances and helicopters shuttled the injured to three Bakersfield hospitals.

An ambulance driver, Don Williams, said: "Surprisingly enough there was not too much crying or moaning. Everybody seemed to have pretty good control."

Engineer L. A. Snyder and fireman A. H. Braley, both of Fresno, were cremated in their cab.

FARMERS GET REPRIEVE ON BURN BAN

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District today continued to June 1 a public hearing on continuing the exemption of agricultural fires from its open burning regulation.

The exemption was to have terminated yesterday and farmers would have had to find another way to dispose of cuttings.

The district board decided to continue the hearing because the University of California Extension Service is still in the midst of a study of the burning of agricultural waste.

Planners' Absence Stalls Zoning Vote

Absence of two members prevented the Larkspur Planning Commission from voting last night on a petition for rezoning of 37 acres on Bon Air Hill. The matter was continued for two weeks.

Commissioners Vaughn Marker and John Vandall were absent. A four-fifths favorable vote is required for rezoning.

Schultz Building Co. is asking multiple residential zoning of the property, which adjoins the Bon Air Apartment area near Marin General Hospital. It is now zoned one-family residential.

Planners Approve Electronics Plant

Fairchild Semi-Conductor Corp.'s new electronic plant near Terra Linda won the go-ahead last night at a special meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The commissioners granted the company a use permit and gave architectural approval to a plant that will cover 55,000 square feet. The company must put in curbs and gutters on Highway 101 frontage road.

The 10-acre site is on the east side of Highway 101 north of the Marin Professional Center. Space is available for parking more than 400 cars.

Continuation of the present high school tax rate was needed to prevent the rate reverting to 75 cents. The elementary tax increase will go for higher teachers' salaries, instructional materials and improvement of buildings and grounds, said Lucas.

ELLISTON

Trans Western was opened. He resigned as manager of the San Rafael Land Title Co. to take over Trans Western management.

Widely known throughout the county, he was active in the real estate field as it related to the title business. His hobby was the land of the county, and he was considered an expert on land usage.

Elliston often was called upon as an expert to locate parcels where there was a clouded title. He spent much of his time in study and research on titles, going back to the titles of the Spanish land grant days.

During World War II he was a member of the Coast Guard reserve. He was a licensed private airplane pilot.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mabel J. C. Elliston, and a daughter, Jordan Rae Elliston, at the home at 43 Golden Hinde boulevard, San Rafael, and two sons, Roy F. Elliston of San Rafael and Joseph Lee Elliston of Seattle. Roy Elliston is treasurer and title examiner of Trans Western.

The family formerly resided at 681 Woodbine drive, San Rafael.

Elliston also is survived by his mother, Mrs. Cornelia Wilson of Morgan Hill; a sister, Mrs. Maude Fine of San Jose, and a brother, Clyde Elliston of Santa Clara, and four grandchildren.

Elliston was a native of Kentucky. He was a member of Fairfax Lodge 556, Free and Accepted Masons, Marin County Shrine Club, San Francisco Bodies Scottish Rite, Islam Temple of the Shrine, Marin Pyramid 31, of Sciots, Marin County High-12 Club, Marin Rod and Gun Club and the San Rafael Yacht Club.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael, conducted by the Fairfax Masonic lodge. Inurnment will be private.

Final Rites Held For James Spolini

Spolini was a native of Valley Ford and for 28 years was employed as an engineer at the Mare Island shipyards.

He is also survived by his wife, Mrs. Mabel P. Spolini of Petaluma, and two sons, Gary Spolini of Ohio and Michael Spolini of Fresno, and four other stepchildren.

Death Of Woman Caused By Choking

Mrs. Helen Mary O'Neill, 46, of Strawberry, who died at the Ranch Wagon Restaurant in Alto Monday night, choked on a piece of roast beef, Coroner Frank J. Keaton reported yesterday after an autopsy.

At first, a heart attack was blamed for the death. However, an autopsy showed that her heart was in good condition but she had choked on the beef.

Funeral services are set for 10 a. m. tomorrow at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

She lived at 256 Ricardo road in Strawberry. Her husband, John, is a doorman at Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

She was having dinner at the restaurant when she suddenly collapsed about 6:30 p. m. Monday. She was escorted to the women's lounge where she died.

Mrs. Anna Moody Dies In Woodacre

Mrs. Anna Moody, 65, widow of an Army colonel, was found dead in her Woodacre home at Central and Scott avenues yesterday. She had lived in Marin 14 years.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said death appeared to be from a heart attack. Mrs. Moody, who lived alone since the death of her husband, Col. Wilber H. Moody, in 1957, had been dead about two days when found by neighbors yesterday.

Her guardian, attorney Harold Truett of San Rafael, asked neighbors to check because he had been unable to contact her for two days.

Mrs. Moody was found on the living room floor, dressed in a bathrobe.

Mrs. Moody was a native of Germany and had one sister living in Germany. Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Cement Worker Collapses, Dies

A Santa Rosa cement finisher, Gabriele Azzarri, 56, collapsed and died while working on a cement project at Bolinas avenue and Park road, Fairfax, yesterday.

Azzarri, who had returned to work Monday after a prolonged illness, picked up a small bucket of sand and then collapsed on the sidewalk. His employer, Mario Bettini, San Rafael cement contractor, summoned Fairfax firemen, who responded with a resuscitator.

Firemen tried vainly for 30 minutes to revive Azzarri before a doctor pronounced him dead. Deputy Marin County Coroner Frank Monti said today an autopsy was to be performed.

Azzarri resided with his wife and children at 1725 S. Wright road. Funeral arrangements are pending at Welti Mortuary, Santa Rosa.

Rose Santucci, 65, Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Rose Santucci of San Anselmo, a resident of Marin County four years, died yesterday at a local hospital after a brief illness. She was 65.

Mrs. Santucci and her husband, Paul Santucci, lived at 164 Morningside drive.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters and a son, Mrs. Stanley H. Dettner of San Francisco, Mrs. John F. Weaver Jr. of Ross and Arnold L. Santucci of Healdsburg, and four grandchildren.

She was a native of Italy.

Requiem Mass will be said at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Sts. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, San Francisco, with the funeral cortege forming at 9:30 a.m. at the Carew and English Mortuary, Masonic at Golden Gate avenues, San Francisco. The Rosary will be recited at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Carew and English chapel. Interment will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Powell F. Carter Dies In Hospital

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Powell F. Carter Jr., a lieutenant in the Navy stationed at Mare Island, and his mother, in Southern California.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Dixie's Rights Filibuster Still Going Strong

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's continuous session on civil rights moved into its third day today with Southern senators giving every appearance they can keep talking against such measures indefinitely.

Nor was there any sign of a possible early break in the stalemate through compromise or by a limitation on debate.

Forty-eight hours—two full days—of the non-stop session ticked off at noon.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) held the floor for the Dixie band at that time.

The Southern forces had come through the night on the shoulders of only two of their number.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-N.C.) carried through until the early morning. He yielded the floor at 4:43 a.m. to Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.) who kept it until 8:44 when Ellender took over.

There were repeated breaks—momentary rest spells for the speakers—however from quorum calls that forced the civil rights backers to bring in enough of their forces to provide a momentary attendance of 51 senators, a majority of the Senate.

Training Sessions Postponed By GOP

The first of two leadership training programs, sponsored by the Republican State Central Committee of California and other Republican groups, has been postponed to May.

Originally the session was to start Monday at Ignacio. Mrs. Mary Ellen Irwin of San Rafael, vice chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee, said today the session will be held in San Francisco and that an exact date will be announced later.

Harbor Loan Report Set In Larkspur

A report on Larkspur's request for a state harbor development loan, as yet unapproved by the Small Craft Harbors Commission, will be made to the city council tonight by City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

The commission last month omitted the Larkspur application for $370,000 from a list of projects approved for state loans totaling more than 17 million dollars.

Piper will ask the council to prohibit parking on William avenue during the Redwood High School traffic rush hours of 8-9 a.m. and 3-4 p.m. He will also report on a meeting with school officials regarding a proposed new access to the Redwood campus along a route extending from Doherty drive.

The council will hold a public hearing on light industrial rezoning of a 60-foot strip of land along the south boundary of Fifer Industrial Park, adjacent to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks. The strip now is zoned one-family residential.

Councilmen also are expected to set a date for a public hearing on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in Larkspur City Hall.

The Alaska moose is the largest member of the deer family. It grows antlers six feet across.

God Not an M.D.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A New York psychiatrist, who once was a Lutheran pastor, told a meeting here that too many people try to make God a "substitute for a Blue Cross program."

"When you need Him," said Dr. Paul A. Qualben, "you call Him down. Then when you're finished with Him, you send Him back."

NMWD Board Notes Water Shortage Fear

Novato does not face water rationing at the moment, but directors of the North Marin Water District last night expressed "grave concern" over the situation in the event no more rain falls this season.

For the time being the board is taking no action other than notifying the district's largest "surplus customers" — Hamilton Air Force Base and the Indian Valley Golf Club — that they must inform the district if and when they plan to take water from the North Marin system.

Hamilton AFB has an eight-inch line in direct connection to the district's main, but most of the water used by the base comes from the Marin Municipal Water District, so the Novato supply is used only occasionally, said Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

The golf club draws water for irrigation of its greens directly from Stafford Lake, Gilbert said. Neither Hamilton nor the golf club has used an excessive amount this year, he added.

"At present, our water on hand is barely enough to meet our normal requirements, even if we use only what we did during the same period last year," Gilbert said.

The last rain of the season had fallen by this time last year and district directors have been told by weather observers that the situation might well be repeated this season.

At this time last year Stafford Lake, Novato's only source of supply, was within a few inches of its capacity of 4,400 acre-feet. It now holds only 3,200 acre-feet.

Old Lagunitas Bridge Held Dangerous

Lagunitas residents protesting the hazards of an old bridge in their area got some advice but no money yesterday from the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

The bridge is just off Sir Francis Drake boulevard, on a portion of Mountain View road which has never been accepted by the county.

Mrs. Cedric Tarr and George McLaughlin, Lagunitas residents, appeared before the supervisors to ask that the county repair the dilapidated structure, which they asserted won't bear the weight of a truck. Both argued it is necessary for fire protection.

'IN A TRAP'

"We are in a trap," declared McLaughlin. A fire in adjacent timber might wipe out homes and lives, he asserted, because no fire truck could get in across the bridge.

"It's a very dangerous situation," he insisted.

But supervisors declared there are numerous parallels on other roads around Marin. The county can't start spending money rebuilding bridges it has never accepted in the first place, they contended.

THEIR ADVICE

The supervisors' advice: Form an assessment district to improve the road and the bridge, and then the county will accept both for maintenance.

A meeting to explore that possibility was set tentatively for March 16 at 8 p.m. in the Lagunitas School, with Supervisor William Gnoss and Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham scheduled to attend.

Bullet Pierces Wall, Lodges In Mattress

A .22 caliber bullet pireced the wall of a San Rafael bedroom and landed inside the mattress, just a few minutes before occupants were to retire last night.

Arthur Moody Colby Jr., an airman at Hamilton Air Force Base, and his wife heard a shot about 10:45 p.m. in the back yard of their home at 1318 Lincoln avenue. They looked outside but saw nothing.

About 11 p.m., they retired for the night and discovered a lump in the mattress. Colby investigated and pulled out a bullet. He then found a hole in the wall.

Police Officer Wade R. Powell said the bullet had entered about two feet to the west of the bedroom window, about 10 feet off the ground. The Colbys were not in the bedroom at the time of the shot but their 9-month-old daughter was asleep on the other side of the room.

Businesswoman Seeks Divorce

Helen E. Gray, operator of Modern Eve women's apparel shop in San Rafael, is suing for divorce from Robert T. Gray, co-owner of Payless Drug Store.

Mrs. Gray, represented by attorney David B. Fyfe, filed the suit in Marin Superior Court on grounds of cruelty. She charges her husband caused her great mental suffering and anguish.

They separated on Feb. 25 after seven years of marriage. Mrs. Gray, who lives in Novato, says they have no community property. Their business interests are in separate ownerships.

Mrs. Gray has one child, Ronelle Gray, 13, her daughter by a previous marriage. She asks for a divorce, reasonable support for and custody of the child.

Sale Of Express Firm Announced

Carlson's Express, Moving and Storage Co. has been sold by George C. Carlson of San Anselmo to Gerald D. Fries of Novato, a long-time employee of the firm.

Fries announced that Carlson will continue in an administrative capacity with the business he founded 10 years ago.

The company's main office and 10,000-square-foot warehouse are at 2708 Redwood Highway, San Rafael. It has branch offices in Novato and San Anselmo.

Meet Set Tuesday On Mental Health

Persons opposed to the development of expanded community mental health facilities in Marin may express their opinions to the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the supervisors' chambers of the county courthouse.

The seven-member board was appointed a year ago by the supervisors to make a study of existing facilities and to make recommendations to the supervisors.

Next Tuesday's meeting will be the second at which persons opposed to expansion of facilities have been invited to give their views.

Tulare Voters Veto School Bond Issue

TULARE (UPI)—Voters for the second time in less than four months yesterday rejected a $1,500,000 bond issue for Tulare Union High School District.

The proposal failed by 76 votes of receiving the necessary two-thirds majority. The tally was 2,308 yes to 1,267 no.

TAX FACTS

Some Levies Deductible, But Some Not

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Taxes, generally, to be deductible, must be imposed on you, and you must have paid them.

Peter J. Wikel

Common types of deductible taxes are: State and city sales taxes, state income taxes personal property tax, real estate tax, automobile license fees, unemployment insurance contributions in some states, state capitation or poll taxes and state gasoline tax.

You can deduct your state gasoline tax on every gallon of gasoline you purchase, but not federal gasoline tax.

The code specifically states you cannot deduct the following types of taxes:

Federal income taxes, federal excise taxes, (such as telephone, telegraph, cosmetics, furs, jewelry, luggage, theatre and amusement taxes, transportation taxes, etc.) federal stamp taxes, estate and gift taxes and taxes assessed for local improvements which tend to increase the value of your property.

Automobile registration fees, federal social security taxes, hunting and fishing licenses, taxes and fees are not deductible, nor are dog licenses.

Taxes are deductible only if you itemize your deduction on long Form 1040. The deductions are lost if you use Form 1040A, short Form 1040 or use the standard deduction.

There's No Doubt Children Want, Use A Good Library

If ever there was any doubt about whether youth makes use of libraries, that doubt was firmly obliterated this week. The San Rafael Public Library reopened Monday after having been closed for many months for enlargement and remodeling.

The first day the library was mobbed, by children particularly. In the children's and teen age departments downstairs there was hardly room enough for the children to move about.

A huge box, placed so books checked out when the library closed last year could be returned, was soon overflowing onto the floor.

One young girl we know, who had been fuming for weeks about how slow the construction program had been, was accompanied to the library by 12 of her friends just as soon as school was out. Because they had a fairly long walk, by the time they got there fully half of the books on the shelves already had been checked out by other reading-hungry youngsters. By the end of the day, the shelves looked like a swarm of locust had been through.

There need be no records searched to state that more books were checked out of the library Monday than in any other day of its history. Three librarians were kept constantly busy at the checkout desk, while others had their hands full helping out in the stacks.

It must have been a tiring—and gratifying—experience for those librarians.

If there still is any doubt about the need for better facilities for our reading youths, the numbers of them who will take advantage of books if they are available, the demand for good reading and research materials, check with the San Rafael librarians. They have a story to tell.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

HOW MUCH IS A BILLION?

The word billion is a popular one in modern parlance. But have you ever stopped to think what a billion of anything really is?

Perhaps this comparison will help. If you were a billionaire and decided to give your money away at the rate of $1,000 a day, it would take nearly 3 years to give away your first million.

But since a billion is one thousand times a million, it would re quire 3,000 years to distribute the entire billion.

If you transfer this million to the category of years, it is a staggering thought. Eternity, which you begin the minute you are born, is endless and a thousand million years from now it will still be in its beginning stages.

Keep ever before you this vast perspective. Life will assume a dynamic, purposeful meaning, and you will gladly endure any sacrifice here in order to insure for hereafter the happiness God wishes you to enjoy with Him for all eternity.

"Where thy treasure is there also will thy heart be." (Matthew 6:21)

Keep our sights on the endless years of eternity, O Lord.

Would Man Like To Be Woman In Next Incarnation? Not This One

NEW YORK (AP) — Every man at one time or other wonders if, in his next reincarnation, it wouldn't be better to return to earth as a woman.

We have been brooding on this possibility recently and have decided: No, it is not for us.

If we are granted a second life, we prefer to live it again in the masculine gender. It seems the only manly thing to do.

Granted a choice, there are compelling reasons why many a fellow might be tempted to be reborn a woman instead of a man.

For one thing, there is a natural, human curiosity to see at first hand how the other half lives. For another thing, women now control more wealth and live longer than men. These are advantages not to be sneezed at, as long as money is worth spending and life is worth living.

But there are important disadvantages. Two that come instantly into the male mind are a couple of worries he doesn't now have:

1. How to fix a run in his stocking.

2. How to stuff a 34-inch waist into a 26-inch girdle, a mathematical impossibility which women achieve every morning.

But there are even more potent arguments to dissuade any sensible man from ever pining for a woman's role in his next life.

In cave-man days life was simple for woman. All she had to do was bear children and cook the meat on days when the old man had some luck hunting.

When the human race started tilling the soil, woman's lot became tougher. She even became kind of a beast of burden. If one of the oxen fell ill, she had to step into the traces and help pull the plow.

Under civilization woman's responsibilities have mushroomed and widened tremendously.

A modern housewife's duties now sound like an occupational roll call made by the U.S. Department of Labor.

She is the family chef, chauffeur, banker, tax expert, business adviser, dishwasher, laundress, plumber, electrician, accountant, educator, paper hanger, maid, butler, nurse, recreation director, master of ceremonies, psychiatrist, judge, jury, warden and chief executioner.

Name any job someone outside the home does for pay, and you'll find she does it inside the home for nothing. She is a one-woman talent agency.

WORST OF ALL is the problem of dealing with the man she marries.

He tells her all he wants is a good wife. But when the kids come along and begin calling her mother, he starts calling her mother, too, and in fact she takes the place of his mother.

BE REBORN a woman? No man in his right mind would take a chance. The male world is an easier racket, and every man is racketeer enough to want to hold on to a good thing.

10 YEARS AGO

A new bus service which Mayor Robert F. Austin of San Rafael hoped "would keep cars at home" was endorsed between San Rafael, San Anselmo and Fairfax by the San Rafael City Council.

Ellis Dufficy's resignation as chief criminal deputy in the Marin County district attorney's office caused Dist. Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw to move William O. Weissich into the vacancy.

20 YEARS AGO

"The residents of Marin want to retain the Northwestern Pacific train and ferry service," said the Marin Journal, which insisted folks find it less expensive to leave their cars at home.

Prison officials don't give religion its proper place, charged Rev. George O'Meara pastor of St. Raphael's Church in a talk before the Prison Assn.

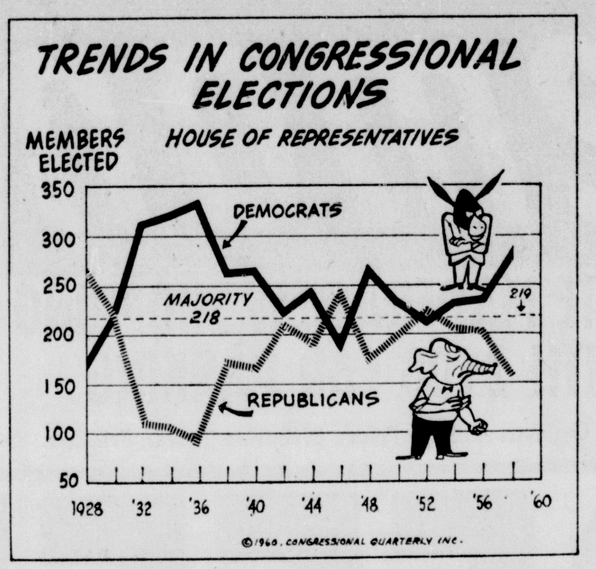
Demos To Keep House Control But Will Lose Seats To GOP

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — Barring a strong Democratic trend later in the year, a sizable number of Congressional districts are expected to return to the Republican fold in the 1960 elections.

Congressional Quarterly's statistical analysis of the country's 437 House seats, and their political behaviour over the past decade, shows the Democrats deeply extended into traditional Republican territory in many states.

Political professionals of both parties agree that the Democrats may well have reached their high water mark in Congressional representation — at least for the foreseeable future — and that it will be very difficult for them to hold onto the 283 districts they now have.



BUT IT WOULD be a political feat of major proportions for the Republicans to gain control of the House.

Republican spokesmen say the Democratic trend apparent since 1954 will not only reverse in 1960, but that the GOP may well pick up the 65 additional seats necessary to regain control of the House.

Democrats admit they have reached a point of saturation in picking up large blocs of Republican seats, and call 1960 a year of "protection rather than expansion" for their cause.

BUT DEMOCRATS claim they can hold Republican gains in 1960 to a minimum, and they sharply contest Republican claims of winning a majority in the next Congress. In order to do that, Democrats say, the Republicans would need an unlikely 11 per cent increase in their popular vote from 1958.

Key Republican hopes are pinned on the 76 seats which they have lost to the Democrats over the past six years. These districts, Republicans feel, are not yet solidly in the Democratic column, and can be won back by an effective Republican campaign in 1960.

CQ's survey showed that 35 of these key seats are in the Midwestern states, 26 in the East, 13 in the West and two in the South. By contrast, there are only 10 recently Democratic seats presently in Republican hands.

SECONDARY Republican targets will be the 121 Northern Congressional districts, now held by Democrats which President Eisenhower carried in 1952 or 1956.

The exposed Democratic position in 1960 is underlined by a study of the 196 seats which have been listed in the "doubtful" column after the 1952, 1954, 1956 and 1958 elections. Doubtful seats are those won by less than 55 per cent of the vote. Democrats now hold 119 of these seats and the Republicans 77.

A study of Congressional elections over the past 30 years shows there is usually a trend at work in favor of one of the parties. An average net gain of 38 seats has been made by one party or the other in the last 16 House elections.

Only in years like 1940 and 1956, when a popular incumbent President at the head of the national ticket offsets a general trend against his party, has there been a general stand-off between the Republicans and Democrats.

PARTY professionals surveying the scene from Washington feel there is some trend to the Republicans now underway. They point to various local elections across the country and particularly the special election in Iowa's 4th District in December, where Republican John H. Kyl took the seat vacated by the death of Democrat Steven V. Carter.

The question is how strong the Republican trend really is, or whether a strong Presidential campaign by the Democrats could upset the trend altogether.

If the GOP trend develops during 1960, the Republicans would be able, through an increase of about five per cent in their 1958 vote, to take enough Democratic seats to reduce the Democrats' majority from 127 to 43 seats. Far more spectacular Republican gains — 11 per cent in key districts — would be necessary to take control of the House.

IF CURRENT predictions were to prove incorrect, however, and the Democrats were able to sustain their 1958 sweep through this year's elections, then a five per cent increase in the Democratic vote could plummet Republican House membership from its present 152 to 92.

The Republicans are counting on Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the head of their ticket to work closely with GOP House candidates throughout the country in working to upset the Democratic majority.

Miller's District Listed 'Doubtful'

WASHINGTON (CQ)—Rep. Clement W. Miller is listed just barely in the "doubtful" category, because he won his Congressional District in 1958 by 54.9 per cent of the vote. A "safe" district is one in which the incumbent won by 60 per cent or more; "fighting" district, 55 per cent to 60 per cent; "doubtful" district, less than 55 per cent.

His district is one of the presently Democratic seats which have switched from Republican to Democratic control since 1953. Therefore, it is considered a key target for the Republicans this year.

Flat Tire Incident Becomes Pleasant

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The other evening I had something happen that made quite a pleasant experience out of a potentially unpleasant one. I had the misfortune of having a flat tire.

After phoning my towing service and being notified that I would have to wait at least three quarters of an hour to have it changed, I proceeded to change it myself, good suit of clothes and all.

Well, no sooner had I assembled the jack and started to get it into place than a car stopped about 100 feet in front of my car and a man carrying a lighted flare in hand came running on the double towards me.

Throwing down the flare, he literally grabbed the jack from my grasp and proceeded to commence the operation of changing the tire, with the comment, "I'm used to doing this sort of thing, I'm a mechanic."

After the tire was changed and the jack restored to its proper place, he kicked the flare over to the gutter, turned and started on the double again to his car. I stopped him with this inquiry. "Where do you work?"

He handed me his card. It reads, "Kurt Foreign Car Repair, San Rafael." I'm sure that if Kurt is that considerate to stop voluntarily to help a fellow in need, he couldn't help being as considerate in any business dealings. Thanks again, Kurt.

Death Sentence Terrible, Needed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Thank you for the editorial on Chessman in Saturday's Independent-Journal. It is about time decent people take action and express their opinion.

Every day children are harmed by characters like Chessman.

Capital punishment is a terrible thing, however, it is necessary for the protection of decent citizens. Many criminals who have no fear of God have a fear of death.

Let us hope soon Chessman will pay his debt for his crime and that law and order will regain its proper respect.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Somerset Maugham recalls his elation when Sir Edmund Grosse, dean of English critics wrote an enthusiastic review of Maugham's first novel, Liza of Lambeth, in 1897. Until he died some 30 years later, however, Sir Edmund never saw Maugham, who by now had written Of Human Bondage, The Moon and Sixpence, and a half dozen great play hits, without patting him on the shoulder and murmuring, "Capital piece of work, that Liza of Lambeth. How smart you were never to write anything else!"

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Old Folks Of The Future May Find Wonderful Way Of Life In Marin

Old crocks like the above-pictured are not to be taken as typical of the distinguished and affluent elders in our Marin of the future.

Senior citizens in this county seem destined to be well fixed; able to pay good-sized monthly bills for the privileges of sea air, top grade chow, and nature better than in the raw but natural-like just the same. Marin beauty and the cash customers will both be pampered.

Public transport? They'll scorn it.

Proximity to a big city? The very thought would make them fwow up.

UNDOUBTEDLY they will be well dressed, no gravy on their vests, and in need of a world of luxuries starting with color TV and working both ways.

This unusual picture of presentday grampaw and grammaw is drawn from educational observations the full width of Marin County.

To the west we have had the Bolinas Mesa project of Alcan Pacific Co., an affair which for quite a while resembled the famed brawl of the Kilkenney Cats. Local folk were vehemently divided. Finally it settled down to a grant to use permit by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, following approval by Marin's planners.

TO THE EAST is the still unsettled row centering about a plush-lined project for Paradise Drive — close to eight million dollars' worth of taxable property likely to eventuate, according to its optimistic promoters. But there's been opposition by an almost united front of Tiburon Peninsula residents backed by their Tiburon Peninsula Master Plan.

This latter uproar is scheduled for a fight to a finish next Tuesday in the supervisors' chambers, starting at 4 p.m., so there'll be no unfinished business to get in the way of all night talk if necessary.

My own view is succinct: I just hope some other reporter covers it. Some younger reporter—practically all reporters are younger, but the one who covers that meeting will come out older, with new ideas of the meaning of the word Paradise.

As a veteran coverer of these recent brawls in their Planning Commission stage (Paradise Park was turned down by the planners, unlike the Bolinas deal), and one who has served a lot of time covering their more advanced stages before the supervisors, I already know a lot more than I want to about them.

THE GIST IS that old age is evidently getting more lucrative for some people. This is so evident to some of the big money constructors that they see in our county an ideal spot for looking after such well-heeled antiques.

A lot of "apartments for senior citizens" projects are prospering in less desirable areas all up and down the Pacific coast. These experiences, it is said, show that most of Marin's notions on such points are out of date.

Residents of both Bolinas and the Tiburon Peninsula have contended that their neighborhoods just don't suit the needs of the aged because no trains or buses roll nearby, the big cities are far away, and various other reasons. They have only the welfare of these potential new neighbors in mind!

The developers have solid facts to back their view that there are plenty of elderly people with plenty of money and vim, who want to get away from it all to a reasonable degree and will pay for the privilege. These can provide their own transportation and quick access to cities.

THEY WANT, and will get, housing far from and above the "institutional," yet with certain special benefits in the way of grounds upkeep, food available when home cooking palls, medical attention when required, and such.

It is argued that these people are mighty desirable, kicking up no fuss and creating no school expense from "exploding population," yet providing plenty of taxes. They'll be no "old folk at the home."

The catch about Paradise Park is that multi-family apartments are planned in a single-family-planned locality. On that rock, the scheme may founder. But otherwise it looks mighty fine, especially to an old codger like me.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Memorandum To Readers: What Ideas Do You Have For World Peace

WASHINGTON — This is a memorandum to every reader of this newspaper.

It is an invitation to you to offer your ideas on what new steps the United States could take to advance the cause of peace.

The initiative to create a pool of fresh and constructive proposals for U. S. action comes from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

To this end the Carnegie Endowment has recently invited some 400 experts in various areas of affairs to suggest new measures by which the United States could make "progress toward a world at peace, founded on freedom and justice."

BUT ALL GOOD ideas do not come from the specialists. Furthermore, there might well be knowledgeable and qualified contributors who were unintentionally missed when the list of 400 to be formally requested to contribute was drawn up.

When I made the suggestion to Joseph E. Johnson, president of the Carnegie Foundation, that readers of this column be specifically invited and encouraged to offer their ideas, his response was enthusiastic.

THEREFORE, this invitation to you means that every constructive proposal which is forthcoming will be channeled to the Carnegie Endowment to be examined and, on its merits, included in the pool of proposals.

A few examples of past initiatives, which the United States has taken, may be helpful:

President Woodrow Wilson proposed the League of Nations.

President Harding and others called the 1922 Naval Disarmament Conference.

President Roosevelt and others initiated the United Nations.

President Roosevelt proposed the lend-lease program.

Sen. Vandenberg and Canada's Lester Pearson first proposed the North Atlantic Alliance.

Persident Eisenhower initiated the "Atoms for Peace" program.

These are only illustrations of past initiatives. They can do no more than hint at what is needed now.

WHAT IS MOST needed to take a fresh, uninhibited look at the revolutionary changes in the world.

What is most wanted are imaginative new ideas and creative thinking for any source whatsoever to enable the United States to deal constructively with these problems.

Every reader of this newspaper is invited to respond.

The must be typewritten and should be addressed to: Roscoe Drummond, 1285 National Press Building, Washington, D.C.

All suggestion must be in by March 15.

The proposals should be concrete and specific. They do not need to be expounded at length; 300 words should be plenty.

STATE LAWMAKERS GET HIGHER EDUCATION PLAN

Master Program For Colleges Introduced In Both Houses

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A master plan designed to meet California's higher education needs for the next decade started through the Legislature today with bi-partisan support.

Seven measures were introduced simultaneously in the Senate and Assembly yesterday. They seek to write into law the 227-page plan drafted by the University of California Regents and the state Board of Education.

The legislation drew immediate praise from Dr. Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction. The plan, he said, "will keep the door open to college education for all California high school graduates."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown has not specifically endorsed the proposal, but said some overall plan is needed to meet soaring enrollments at the university, state colleges and junior colleges—expected to hit half a million in 10 years.

"The time has come to take some firm and immediate action," Brown said.

The key proposal is a constitutional amendment which, if approved by the voters in November, would:

1. Set up a separate board similar to the U.C. Regents to run the state colleges, now under the state Board of Education.

2. Create a permanent coordinating council on higher education to advise the governor, Legislature and three educational systems.

3. Strictly define functions of the university, junior colleges and state colleges; permitting state colleges to award doctoral degrees jointly with U.C. if he university agrees, but maintaining U.C. as the research and professional training center.

Three separate bills would increase state aid to the 64 junior colleges, allowing $35 a year per student, and appropriate 30 million dollars for state interest-free state construction loans. Grants would be available to needy districts.

Three more bills would overhaul the state competitive scholarship system, doubling the number of scholarships—from 2,560 to 5,120 a year—and raising the maximum amount from $600 to $900.

Also called for in the plan, but not requiring legislative action, are proposals to stiffen admission standards at U.C. and the colleges.

Admission to U.C. would be cut from the top 15 per cent of high school graduates to 12½ per cent and state colleges from 40 per cent to 33.

The plan envisions 22 new junior colleges to help handle the state colleges and U.C. under the tougher standards, plus three new U.C. campuses and two new state colleges.

Legislature Gets Brown-Backed Anti-Smog Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Legislature took steps today toward cleaning up an old and valuable natural resource—the air.

Assemblyman Ronald B. Cameron (D-Whittier) planned to introduce an administration-backed anti-smog bill designed to turn control of air pollution over to local governments.

The bill, with 44 Assembly co-authors, contained, except for a few technicalities, the program proposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown a week ago in announcing a special legislative call on smog.

Brown admitted it would take "a herculean effort" at all levels of government to "reduce the pall of smog which hangs over so many of our cities. He said control and enforcement efforts, however, should remain with counties and cities.

Cameron's proposal left on doubt that motor vehicles were the principal target for legislative action.

"The scientists tell us that 60 to 80 per cent of smog that irritates the eyes is caused by motor vehicle pollutants," Cameron told a reporter.

"In order to keep this from being the continual political football it has been, we need to set up an administration to take smog out of politics and put it in science where it belongs," he said. "This is what I propose to do with this bill."

Supervisors Set New County Travel Policy

New "county travel policy" was set by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday, as result of two communications from County Administrator Donald A. Jensen. Among other things it ruled out payment of "private mileage" from a point outside Marin boundaries.

First Jensen dealt with the case of David Fogel, juvenile hall superintendent who had asked $50.40 last week for auto expenses. Jensen said he wished "to state emphatically that the vast majority of county employees, including the probation department, do not claim mileage and expenses to which they are entitled under the board travel policy."

"They forego these expenses in the interest of serving the public."

Jensen said there had been some misunderstanding of board policy — not only by Fogel but shared by himself and the auditor's office. So Jensen and the auditor made recommendations netting Fogel $22.50 on a basis of honoring his claims in part.

The board approved this amount for special week-end trips to juvenile hall but no bridge tolls paid in coming from Fogel's home in Berkeley.

For evening meetings or special work Fogel got supper money but no mileage. For early arrivals or delayed departures he got no payment.

Recommended additions to travel policy were:

No private mileage is to be paid for transportation to and from work of any county employee.

If emergency or special night meeting requires return to job after eight hours of work, mileage from and to home will be paid but only if no overtime is paid. Under no circumstances will private mileage be paid from a point beyond the county line.

Ark Dwellers Told To Move From Street

Sausalito ark dwellers Alex Georgiadis and Mr. and Mrs. Philip H. Savage, who have houseboats on underwater Mono street, must move off the city street within three months, Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Superior Court ruled yesterday.

The judge found that Georgiadis' floating home at 356 Mono and the Savage ark at 336 Mono are encroaching on a city street.

Sausalito City Atty. John B. Ehlen filed suit against the ark dwellers exactly one year ago, charging that the arks were encroaching on city property and that they are public nuisances in that sewer facilities do not comply with state and city laws.

Attorney Michael Lewton defended the ark dwellers.

On the nuisance charge, Judge Sims ruled that the contest was a draw. He found that Sausalito had failed to present sufficient evidence to show pollution of the bay. On the other hand, he added, the ark owners failed to show that the apparatus in the two homes had secured city approval as required by law.

No decision was handed down on the nuisance count since the arks must move or be moved by June 1.

John Howard Payne's famed song, "Home Sweet Home," was part of an opera, "Clari, or the Maid of Milan."

Board Approves Suggestions On Fair Funds

Two recommendations on Marin County Fair payments were made by County Administrator Donald A. Jensen to the county board of supervisors yesterday and approved after discussion of a confused and confusing fiscal situation.

They provided:

1. That the board authorize expenditures of $26,250 from the amount in the budget indicated for civic center site acquisition and building construction.

2. That it also authorize the auditor's office to request immediate authorization from the state Department of Finance for expenditure of $26,250 from the December allocation for capital improvements, to be paid to the Frank Lloyd Foundation as architect.

These recommendations stemmed from a Sacramento trip by Jensen, Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell, and Aaron Green of the foundation. Jensen reported that they discussed the fair problem with Donald Muchmore, deputy director of the state Department of Finance.

"The $21,221.81 in the county fair fund," said Jensen, "must be used for operating expenses, cannot be applied towards capital outlay, and therefore the board's previous request to utilize these funds toward the architect's fees would be denied."

Jensen said the county would have enough money to run the fair this year by utilizing reserves in the county fair fund and the state fair fund plus a $15,000 apportionment to cover operating expenses.

Next year's fair will be insured continued operation by the state, Jensen said, based on the approved budget as to operating costs.

Change Approved In Marinwood Plan

One last faint jiggle in the Marin County Board of Supervisors chamber yesterday recorded the end of the earthquake period of some months ago when Marinwood's recreation area rocked both supervisors and planning commission.

The supervisors approved an amendment to the Marinwood amended master plan, moving some commercial area over into a former apartment area and shifting a "buffer strip."

Bill Proposes Big Boost In State's Aid To Scholars

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A series of bills to more than double the number of state scholarships and increase grants to $900 was introduced today by Assemblyman Dorothy M. Donahoe (D-Bakersfield).

The proposal would increase from eight to 16 the number of scholarships per Senate and Assembly district and provide 3,200 at-large scholarships.

The statewide total now is 2,560.

In addition, the amounts paid under the state competitive scholarship programs would be more flexible, ranging from $300 to $900, depending on need. The grant now is $600 or actual tuition costs, whichever is smaller.

Board Re-Appoints NMWD Directors

Three incumbent directors of the North Marin Water District with headquarters in Novato were appointed for new terms by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

They are Arnold Heise, Franklin Gustafson and Emil Renati, whose terms will expire on March 22 but who will then start new four-year terms.

The supervisors acted on the basis of a communication advising that there was no contest and therefore that no election need be held.

'Laughing Killer' Denied Parole

The so-called "laughing killer of Woodside Glen," who made headlines in the mid-1930s, yesterday was turned down for parole by the California Adult Authority.

Jerome von Braun Selz, 51, is serving a life term at San Quentin Prison for the 1935 slaying of Mrs. Ada French Rice. At the time he was arraigned, pleaded guilty and sentenced to life in less than an hour.

In 1958 his plea for freedom to the state Supreme Court was turned down. He has said he was railroaded into prison.

The Adult Authority, meeting at the prison, postponed any action on the case for a year.

Classes for Building Superintendents Set

Horner Olson, project manager of the Peter Kiewit Co., San Francisco, will discuss "The Job of the Construction Superintendent."

WILLING TO WALK?

Novato In Market For Census Takers

Wanted: 25 persons with high school education, between the ages of 18 and 64, for a period of two weeks, eight hours a day, some evening work. Must be willing and able to walk.

If you qualify you, too, may be chosen as one of Novato's special census enumerators.

The census, under direction of Supervisor J. Herbert Bamford, will get under way Monday with selection of enumerators the first item on the federal census taker's agenda. Applications for the jobs are available at the city hall and applicants will be interviewed as soon as the applications can be processed, City Clerk Robert O. Bailey told the Novato City Council last night.

The rate of pay for the enumerators is six cents for each qualified name they put on the dotted line during the two-week head count.

A letter from Bamford, received by the city yesterday, also requested that $1,550 be set aside as a special census fund from which bills might be paid as they come up during the counting operation. The money is part of $3,500 it is estimated the census will cost the city.

The council noted that some money might be saved by accepting the offers of free enumerators from the city's service clubs and organizations.

During a comparatively brief meeting last night, the council also passed an ordinance limiting parking to two hours on the west side of Highway 101 between Grant and Vallejo avenues.

The ordinance will not go into effect until signs are posted. The signs will be posted, the council decided, when the rest of the city's parking zones are set by law.

Bailey suggested the city employ a "meter maid" for chalking tires and issuing citations when the parking ordinance starts. "The fines would more than pay her wages," he said.

The city's first bills were approved for payment in the amount of $1,006.10. The bills included supplies, printing and miscellaneous costs. The largest item on the list was $175 to the University of California for tuition fees for a course in city planning now being taken by the city's seven planning commissioners.

Much of the meeting was taken up with a report by Al Lerch, chairman of the Novato Chamber of Commerce's college site committee, on material the committee hoped to present to a site selection meeting of the state Board of Public Works in Sacramento this afternoon. City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. drafted a resolution, which the council approved, embodying Lerch's material and putting the city council on record in favor of location of the North Bay state college in Novato.

In other action last night, the council:

1. Heard a letter from the Bay Area Rapid Transit Committee indicating that requests of the city to terminate the proposed rapid transit line in Novato instead of Ignacio are being considered.
2. Accepted an invitation from the Novato Lions Club to be guests of the club at a dinner meeting at Cloud Five March 9.
3. Received an invitation from Novato 4-H Club to take part in a 4-H parade Saturday.
4. Took note of a copy of an application to the state Alcoholic Control Board for off-sale beer, wine and whiskey licenses from Lee Brothers Market, under consideration at Grant and Seventh.
5. Appointed Councilman Everett Pozzi as council liaison with the Novato Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee.
6. Decided to inspect the condition of streets in Westridge Subdivision Unit 2 before approving a request from County Director of Public Works Marvin W. Brigham that the tract's improvement bonds be retired.
7. Adjourned until March 10 at 8 p.m.

Polling Places Set For Novato Vote

Five polling places and 20 election officials were designated last night by the Novato City Council for the April 15 election.

Polling places will be at the city hall, main firehouse, and West Novato, Hill and Lynwood Schools.

The election will see three incumbent councilmen, M. E. (Babe) Silva, Everett Pozzi and Harvey J. Vicchio, plus Eugene R. Trombley contending for three council seats.

Pension Plan For Sausalito Help Looms

The Sausalito City Council last night passed a resolution of intention to adopt an ordinance to provide a retirement system for city employees.

Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said the 30 employees are generally in favor of the state employment retirement system over private plans.

The council agreed that an election will be held within 21 days at which time employees will vote on whether they desire the state plan. If it is approved by employees, the council will meet March 29 and adopt an ordinance approving the contract with the state.

Ehrlich said the finance committee recommended that the plan, if approved, be made effective by May 1. He said, "we do not contemplate a tax increase," and he said there would be no salary increase within the next year for city employees if the plan goes into effect.

Reed Board Sets Budget Schedule

Reed Union School District trustees last night set up a schedule for 1960-1961 budget planning. Budget discussions will be held at the second Tuesday board meeting each month.

Mention was again made of a special election on a bond issue, but trustees agreed more information will be needed before the amount can be determined.

Restaurateur Gets Applause But That's All

The Glad Hand Restaurant got the glad hand at the Sausalit City Council meeting last night.

The hearty applause came from the audience right after Laura Ross of 587-A Bridgeway said: "For eight years I have lived where I look down on the top of the Glad Hand. I have watched how it has changed from a not-too-good spot to a very nice restaurant and I personally feel if the Glad Hand were not here Sausalito would lose a great deal."

Owner of the restaurant, Albert K. Engel, had before the council a request for rezoning of his property and a lease of city tidelands, plus an offer to sell frontage and relocate the Glad Hand structure to the rear of the lot. His property is zoned residential and he desires it to be rezoned commercial.

Engel proposed to deck over a portion of the two lots which lie between the Ondine Restaurant and his, such area to be used for parking.

The request was denied unanimously by the council, without prejudice, and then referred to a committee for study since councilmen felt, in general, that they needed much more information.

Councilman John E. Koenig Jr., said, "It would seem to me that Engel's proposal is a good one." But both councilmen George E. Keeney and Mrs. Marjorie B. Brady said they were opposed to rezoning.

Several people from the audience spoke in favor of the Glad Hand owner's position.

Transit Officials Detail Their Plans

By DONALD DAVIS

The board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge is a major headache to the directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, and it became evident last night that the Los Ranchitos area north of San Rafael is also a pain that will require more than an aspirin for relief.

The five-county transit plan was detailed by officials of the transit district at a public meeting at San Rafael High School.

John C. Beckett of Kentfield, one of two Marin directors on the transit district board, outlined the plans assisted by Oral Conyers of Larkspur and Harry Moses of the Peninsula, engineers, and George McDonald, an information official from Contra Costa County.

Beckett said a decision is due soon on whether the directors of the Golden Gate Bridge District will allow a rail-carrying deck to be built beneath the span. He said transit engineers say the plan is safe while bridge engineers say it is not. Beckett said a private firm is now making a survey and soon will have its report ready.

The Marin line virtually hinges on the availability of the bridge structure, he said. It is not a question of the weight of cars, estimated at 50,000 pounds, but of the structure that will hold the cars, he explained.

Beckett said that by May the engineering and finance reports, now 75 per cent complete, should be ready for presentation to the boards of supervisors in the five counties. If approved, the matter will go on the November ballot.

From the audience of approximately 100 persons there came a few questions about "the curve" at Los Ranchitos. The district plans to lay tracks along the Northwestern Pacific railroad right of way, and through tubes and tunnels, thus avoiding built-up areas. But in the area north of San Rafael, Beckett explained, the line has to be curved into a residential section to handle the speed of the trains.

"We believe you should work out something before you go to the board," a member of the audience said, "because you are going through valuable property in Los Ranchitos. We will promise you a pretty good fight."

Beckett said engineers would do everything they can to make the system better in that respect. But he added, not everyone can be satisfied.

McDonald reviewed the history of the district, pointing out that a rapid transit rail system has been adjudged the least costly means of reducing automobile congestion. He said a electric line would produce less noise than other transit forms, and no smog.

He said it is now estimated that the overall cost of the district program will be 700 million dollars. But Beckett said this would include everything possible, and that the figure "would have to be pared down" before a bond issue could be put to a vote. Beckett said fares probably would pay for half the cost of running the system, the other half coming from taxes.

Giving particular emphasis to Marin, Beckett said there is very little space left for more freeway systems, and, if freeways are built, there will be "more cutting into beautiful Marin hillsides."

These details also were presented during the meeting:

Trains would average 45 miles an hour, stopping at one of six stations in Marin for 20 seconds.

The trains will have an exclusive right of way with no automobile interference.

The capacity will be 30,000 seated passenger per track per hour, compared to 2,500 per lane per hour on the highways.

Trains will run 24 hours a day, and will run every two minutes during the two hours of peak commute traffic in the morning and evening.

Type of train has not been selected. Subways and monorails would be more expensive than surface trains.

You might be given a metal tag to insert in a turnstile at the beginning and end of a journey. An electric brain would record the miles you traveled, and you would get a bill at the end of the month.

Trains might be run automatically with a "conductor" on board to police passengers.

After the system has been in operation, an automatic selector might be used to set up the schedule of trains needed during certain types of weather.

The fare probably will be two to three cents a mile.

It might take one-and-a-half years to build the Marin line, but the deciding factor would be construction of a tunnel for the line into Waldo Hill under Sausalito.

Gallinas District Moves To Collect Overdue Charges

Directors of the Gallinas Community Services District last night took action to collect delinquent sewer service charges.

After consulting with the county counsel's office, directors decided to send registered letters with the bills, telling delinquent customers if they do not pay they will be taken to court.

Directors also established a job order form so the district maintenance man can order parts and work after approval by a director, rather than wait for a regular meeting of the board.

Directors also considered the June 7 ballot, when two positions on the board are up for election. President Harry W. Thomas has indicated he will run again. Director Harry Johnston said he will not.

JOHN R. HENDRICKSON
Accused in embezzlement

Embezzlement Trial Jury Impanelled

A jury of seven men and five women was selected yesterday to hear the trial of San Rafael manufacturer John R. Hendrickson, 40, charged with aiding in the embezzlement of nearly four million dollars from a Southern California bank.

The trial is being held in U. S. District Court in Los Angeles.

The trial began yesterday before Judge Alexander Bicks of New York City. It is expected to last four or five weeks.

Hendrickson is charged with conspiring with George A. Hewlett in illegally using funds from the former U. S. National Bank of San Diego's East Los Angeles branch.

Hewlett, also 40, committed suicide last May 2 and left notes implicating the manufacturer in the embezzlement. The banker said he received none of the money because it went to Hendrickson to finance various business enterprises.

Reed Schools To Close For Teacher Institute

Reed School District parents won't need to get their youngsters off to school tomorrow.

All four schools in the district will be closed for a teachers' institute.

Teachers will visit Oakland schools, the Pine Grove Intermediate School in Orinda and the Whittier Demonstration School in Berkeley, said acting Supt. John C. Fitch.

Tiburon Baker Wins Approval For Buildings

After months of effort and an initial turndown by the Marin County Planning Commission, John Musso, veteran Tiburon baker, managed yesterday to gain approval from the county supervisors of his plans to build completely over his lot.

Musso's plans provide for a dwelling unit above his bakery, and for additional construction to be used as storage facilities. Musso never has had parking in a parking-starved area, and there would be no parking provided in his plans. This led to turndown by the planners.

The required parking space is now nowhere to be found in Tiburon, the supervisors agreed. But Supervisor Vera Schultz, supporting Musso and paying special tribute to his rum cake, said he was a backer of a plan for municipal parking in the near future.

"Keep up the quality of that rum cake," admonished Supervisor William D. Fusselman after the unanimous approval.

The supervisors also:

1. Referred to the public works department a request from the Paradise Property Owners Assn. for a 25-mile speed limit on a short stretch of Paradise drive, where a 35-mile limit was recently decreed.

2. Received a petition requesting an election to establish a separate Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District with boundaries the same as those of the existing Terra Linda Community Services District.

3. Voted appropriation of $150 requested by the Citizens Advisory Committee oil Development of Marin County as additional expense money.

4. Approved a request that the Gallinas Village Community Services District election be made part of the primary election ballot.

5. Were told by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan that it is up to the board to decide whether the cost of fencing the Manuel T. Freitas parkway ditch in Terra Linda is justified as a safety measure. The Terra Linda Community Services District had asked the county to build the fence.

6. Approved the county fire chief's moving of a surplus first-aid station from Albert Field in San Rafael to rent-free quarters provided by the Dairymen's Assn. in Point Reyes Station.

7. Approved resolutions filing a map for Del Mar Estates Unit No. 2 Assessment District, approving engineer's report, confirming assessment, awarding sale of bonds for $247,170 to First California Co. of San Francisco, and awarding contract for paving to Lee Mac Paving Co., of Corte Madera on its low bid of $159,799.39.

8. Received a report from County Administrator Donald A. Jensen that final plans and specifications from the county hospital and farm and Juvenile Hall were completed by the architects Monday and will be presented to the board the latter half of this month.

9. Authorized signing of an order to proceed with construction of the civic center.

10. Heard a letter from the Marin Senior Coordinating Council asking for information on land available at the civic center for construction of a senior center. The matter was referred to the civic center committee and the county counsel.

BACK TO THE PLANNERS

Technicality Holds Up Sausalito Use Permits

A technicality held up decisions on three applications for use permits sought at the Sausalito City Council meeting last night.

The use permits were sought by Views Land Co. to build two 12-unit apartments at Shelter Cove, by Sally Stanford to enlarge her Valhalla Restaurant to accommodate a maximum of 100 persons, and by Rob Rose to build a restaurant, cocktail lounge and 10 shops on his property on El Portal street.

The monkeywrench was tossed by City Atty. John B. Ehlen, who said the use permits requested did not comply with city ordinance 506 and should go back to the planning commission to be approved with the addition that the required statutory findings have been made.

The matter was brought up by the attorney after a motion had already been passed 4-1 by the council on Views Land Co.'s use permit.

The motion was that a committee be appointed to meet with interested parties for developing a concrete plan for acquisition of the Shelter Cove area lots upon which Views Land Co. wishes to build. The motion said this plan should be made within 45 days and that a maximum of $500 be made available to appoint an appraiser or other persons to assist the committee. Councilman George E. Keeney abstained.

After Ehlen's ruling Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. moved that the three use permits be referred back to the planning commission "to make such findings as are appropriate with a specific opinion from the city attorney." The vote to do so was unanimous.

Planning Commission Secretary Ruth Sisson fairly sizzled in the audience. She said that, while she did not take issue with Ehlen's ruling, it was normal procedure that the planning commission did not put the findings on the use permit except in very exceptional cases.

Sidney Rudy, who represents Walter Benson of Views Land Co. and Richard Gladstein, attorney representing Sally Stanford, discussed the possibility of the city buying the cove property. Some of the apartments, if constructed, would block the Valhalla's view over the water.

Councilman Ehrlich suggested that if the Valhalla gave a substantial sum toward buying the underwater property, "We could go to the other property owners from there."

Gladstein said it was impossible to give Ehrlich a specific answer to this proposal.

Rudy said he would grant the city 45 days for further study on how to raise money to buy the waterfront property.

The council also:

1. Set a meeting for 8 p.m. Monday on development of public parking facilities between Bridgeway and Humboldt avenue.

2. Passed a resolution setting up seven precincts for the April 12 municipal elections, setting hours between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., compensation at $15 and allowing four people to work at each precinct.

3. Approved warrants totaling $20,396.

4. Denied a request by Edgar H. Rowe, 69 Monte Mar drive, for a street light at 75 Monte Mar drive.

Top Money Winner

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., has moved into first place among women golf professionals battling for top money honors of 1960.

The 25-year-old blonde boosted her earnings to $3,349.70 by grabbing top money of $1,247.35 in the Tampa Open Sunday.

Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, slipped to second with winnings of $3,015.

MOST SENSIBLE SPEECH OF THE SESSION

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—See is blind and Mady is a German shepherd.

State Senator Charles M. See usually brings Mady with him into the State House during the Legislature.

In a heated debate an adversary shouted: "I move this bill be recommitted to the finance committee."

"Warf! warf!" protested Mady.

"Even the dog knows the motion is no good," See said gleefully.

Condition Unchanged

A Sacramento County Hospital spokesman reported today "no change" in the condition of Mrs. Louise French, former resident of 167 Park street, San Rafael, who was critically injured Friday when a gas heater in her new Carmichael home blew up in her face, burning 50 per cent of her body.

Eight Named For Oregon's Primary Ballot

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — The names of six Democrats, including Adlai Stevenson, and of two Republicans, including New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, were entered today for Oregon's May 20 presidential primary election.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) also was entered.

Vice President Richard Nixon and Rockefeller were named as Republican candidates although Rockefeller has sent word he was mailing an affidavit which would remove him from the ballot.

Other Democrats picked were Sens. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, and Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr., a Republican, had the power to name the candidates under a new Oregon law.

Little Don Blasingame Makes Up In Hustle What He Lacks In Size

HANLEY

PHOENIX — Don Blasingame is a hustling ball player. The new Giant second baseman has been that way ever since the St. Louis Cardinal organization signed him out of high school in 1951 for a $2,500 bonus.

"When you're little, you've got to hustle hard and make more noise than the big fellows to keep them from walking all over you," said the 160-pounder.

"Why, do you know, the other night a fellow tapped me on the shoulder as I was standing outside our hotel here in Phoenix and said: 'Hello Stu.' When I turned around he apologized: 'Sorry, I thought you were Stu Miller.'

"I got more beef on me than Stu. Maybe not much more. But I didn't mind at all being mistaken for little Stu, as they call him. And the reason is that he's a hustling scrapper, too."

Blasingame didn't start playing for the Cardinal chain immediately after he was signed. He first spent 19 months in the Air Force before playing for Winston Salem in 1953. He batted .290 his first year in the minors and was moved to Houston (.315) in 1953 and then to Omaha (.302) in 1955.

THE CARDINALS brought him up to St. Louis toward the end of the '55 season and shifted him from shortstop to his natural position at second when Red Schoendienst was traded to the Giants in an eight-player swap.

St. Louis fans screamed at the then St. Louis manager, Frank Lane, for trading the popular and able redhead but it wasn't long before Blasingame won them over. They nicknamed him The Blazer.

He earned the nickname with his speed — getting a quick jump on the ball and pivoting without any waste motion on double plays.

BLASINGAME had his best year at bat for the Cardinals. He hit .289 as their leadoff man —178 basehits, including 26 doubles, seven triples and one homer. Additionally, he drew 69 walks and stole 15 bases.

Bill Rigney hasn't had that kind of leadoff man for the Giants since they came west. The Giant manager is estactic when he thinks of having a leadoff man capable of getting on base 247 times.

Spring training camp of the Giants now is only in its third day but already Blasingame, Eddie Bressoud and Jimmy Davenport are like old pals in pepper games before batting and fielding practice starts.

You can sense the close feeling growing among them, an air of confidence.

"I felt last summer that the Giants were the club to beat in the '59 race," said Blasingame. "Most of the other Cardinals did, too. Now with the added pitching strength of Bill O'Dell and Billy Loes it looks like we have the best balanced club in the league.

"MY JOB will be to get on base. I know those fellows behind me will bring me around. Imagine having that power behind you—Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and the rest."

The fact that Cepeda still is a holdout didn't cause The Blazer to hesitate in listing him. He feels and so do all the rest in the Giant camp, the brass and salaried ones, that the salary differences between the Baby Bull and the front office will be solved well in advance of the season opener, April 12.

INJURED HAND SIDELINES JACK SANFORD

PHOENIX (AP)—Jack Sanford, San Francisco Giants right-hander, has an injured finger that may keep him from throwing for a week or 10 days as the National League club works out here.

Sanford nicked the index finger on his pitching hand opening a package four days ago.

"It doesn't hurt, but I just can't risk pitching with it," says Sanford, who won 15 for the Giants last year. "I probably would split it open again and there would go another two or three days."

Infielder Benny Valenzuela, who had been delayed at the Mexican border, was on hand yesterday.

Rain washed out practice and Manager Bill Rigney kept his boys off the puddled grounds.

"Losing this day won't hurt," he said. "Most of the boys are in extremely fine condition and they have been working hard every day for almost two weeks. A day off won't break up the ol' ball club."

L. A. Chargers Sign Two Pro Veterans

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Veteran pro football players Glenn Holtzman and Dick Chorovich today joined the ranks of the newly-organized Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League.

Holtzman, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 240-pound defensive end, was with the Los Angeles Ram of the National Football League from 1955-58, and was traded to the Chicago Cardinals in the Ollie Matson deal last year. He refused to report to Chicago and sat out the season.

Chorovich, 6-feet, 4-inches, is a 260-pound offensive tackle who played for the Baltimore Colts from 1955-57.

Vejar Meets Undefeated Cuban On TV

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Before his last fight Luis Rodriguez was perturbed by claims he couldn't punch, so he set out to prove the criticism was unfounded.

He made his point. He knocked out previously unbeaten Carl Hubbard in four rounds for his 27th victory in 27 starts.

He gets a chance tonight to show the kayo was no accident. He meets rugged Chico Vejar in the 10-round main event at the Miami Beach Auditorium. The bout will be televised over the ABC network at 7 p.m. PST.

Vejar has been stopped only three times in a 10-year career during which he has engaged in 110 fights. He has knocked out 41 of his opponents.

Rodriguez, No. 1 challenger for the welterweight championship, might have a more difficult task than when he met Hubbard. The Cuban has agreed to allow Vejar, who is from Stamford, Conn., to come i as a middleweight, and this weight difference could be a major factor.

AMARILLO, Tex.—Buddy Turman, 183, Dallas, knocked out Tommy "Hurricane" Sims, 180, Tyler, Tex., 3.

RICHMOND, Calif.—Ocie Chatmon, 180, Oakland, Calif., stopped John Balla, 178, Stockton, Calif., 8.

McKEESPORT, Pa. — Jimmy Chavis, 150, McKeesport, Pa., outpointed Ottie Atkins, 150, Huntington, W.Va., 8.

FRESNO, Calif. — Ben Medina, 140¼, Fresno, awarded decision over Orlando Zulueta, 140¼, Havana, 8. Fight stopped because Medina's right eyebrow severely cut by accidental butt from Zulueta; Medina ahead on points and under California rules awarded decision.

LONDON, England—Bernie Taylor, South Africa, outpointed Johnny Howard, London, 8; featherweights.

Big 10 Split On Rose Bowl Pact Voting

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten will not enter another Rose Bowl agreement unless some last-minute vote switching is done at the conference's business meeting in Columbus this weekend.

This was virtually assured yesterday when Northwestern announced it will vote against participation.

Northwestern's stand leaves the league deadlocked 5-5 in a matter which needs at least a 6-4 majority to be carried. Others who are against the post-season game are Minnesota, Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Michigan, Michigan State, Purdue, Iowa and Indiana are in favor of another contract.

However, defeating the proposal to continue in the Pasadena classic does not necessarily mean Big Ten teams cannot compete in the Rose Bowl.

There is a clause which allows a team to accept a bid to the Rose Bowl on an individual basis. To strike out the clause, a 6-4 vote is needed.

This matter also will be brought up at the meetings beginning tomorrow and unless one of the schools in favor of participation switches its vote, the loophole clause will remain.

VOTE SWITCH

However, there is belief that one of the schools will switch its vote and the contradictory clause will be eliminated from the Big Ten code.

The Rose Bowl committee in Pasadena apparently is not worried. Lathrop Leishman, head of the committee, said he expects the game to be improved rather than hurt.

The Tournament of Roses has a contract with the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities which provides for the association to come up with a means of selecting an Eastern opponent.

Leishman said there is nothing to prevent individual Big Ten schools from accepting Rose Bowl bids and added he hopes some will. The AAUW is to announce a plan for choosing an Eastern opponent by March 31.

TAM TO MEET RICHMOND IN CAGE TOURNEY

Tamalpais High School Indians, undefeated winners of the Marin County Athletic League, will meet Richmond High's Oilers next Thursday night, March 10, in the first round of the Tournament of Champions basketball classic at Berkeley, it was announced yesterday.

The Tam-Richmond game is set for 7:30 o'clock in the University of California gymnasium.

If Tam wins the opener the Indians will return to action at 9 p.m. on Friday, March 11. Should the Indians lose to Richmond they would play their next game at 6 p.m. March 11.

Eight league champions from northern California are entered in the annual classic, with 10 consecutive victories. Tam won the Marin league

S.F. May Stage Junior Welter Title Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Matchmaker Bennie Ford of the San Francisco Boxing Club said today he is trying to arrange a May 25 bout between Carlos Ortiz and Dulio Loi for the world junior welterweight title.

Ford said he has guaranteed Ortiz $20,000 to participate in the Cow Palace bout.

Ford added that Vittorio Stromolo of Italy's Winter Olympic Games team had accepted the offer in behalf of Loi, an Italian favorite.

JUST FOLLOW THE SIGNS

Alas, the poor baseball fan. He may know who is on first, and even who is out in left field, but he's going to have his problems finding Candlestick Park, the new home of the San Francisco Giants. Shown above are some of the signs on roads leading to the park. How do you get to the stadium? Just follow the signs—you can't miss it. (UPI Photo)

Cal's Imhoff Named On UPI All-America

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, highest scorer in college basketball history, was chosen on the United Press International 1960 All-America team today for the third straight year. He was elected by a near-unanimous vote.

Jerry West of West Virginia, Jerry Lucas of Ohio State, Darrall Imhoff of California and Tom Smith of St. Bonaventure were the other players honored by an all-time high electorate of 338 writers and radio-TV broadcasters from coast to coast.

Of the 338 voters, 336 made the amazing six-foot-five Robertson their first-team choice, one picked him for second team, and another exercised the Democratic privilege of ignoring the Cincinnati phenom on his ballot.

Robertson thus appeared on a record 99.8 per cent of the votes cast.

The 21-year-old senior, rated a cinch to become professional basketball's next new star, is only the second player ever to be elected three times to the UPI All-America team since its inception in 1947. The first collegian so honored was Tom Gola of LaSalle from 1953 to 1955.

West, the six-foot-three backcourt sharpshooter who led West Virginia to the Southern Conference championship and an NCAA berth, was selected on the team for the second year in a row. He was a first or second team choice of 95.8 per cent of the voters.

Heiss Far Ahead In World Meet

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—The word "Heiss" means hot in German and that was the way Carol Heiss of New York City was skating today as she moved into the second round of the 1960 World Figure Skating Championships.

Queen Carol, holder of the women's title for four years, showed plainly yesterday she intended to run the string to five.

Two dozen skaters from 12 nations spun through two compulsory figures each on the opening program. After the first one Miss Heiss was leading her closest opponent, Sjoukje Dijkstra of the Netherlands, by 5.7 unofficial points. In the second figure she spread this margin to 11.1.

Four more compulsory figures are on the program for the women today. Then they will rest until tomorrow night, when free skating will close out the competition in the women's singles.

Two St. Raphael's Quintets Capture CYO Tourney Wins

St. Raphael's CYO basketball teams in 70, 90 and 100-pound divisions won two of their three quarter-final games Sunday in meeting Contra Costa and South Alameda county champions at St. Mary's High School in Berkeley.

St. Leander's of San Leandro defeated the San Rafael boys in the 70's bracket 26-12. The St. Raphael's 90's won over St. Mark's of Richmond 31 to 26 with a 12-point fourth quarter featured by Donnie Knott's three free throws in the final moments. Rich Ghilotti and Knotts were high point men in this struggle with nine each.

The St. Raphael's 100's posted a win over St. Felicitas of San Leandro, 28 to 25, behind Lorin Galassi's 15 points.

The two winning teams, and the 120's who drew a bye in these play-offs, go into the semi-final round this Sunday, also at St. Mary's High. Their opponents will be: St. Mark (Richmond) or St. Louis Bertrand (Oakland) 120's at 1 p.m.; St. Elizabeth (Oakland) 90's at 3 p.m.; and St. Elizabeth (Oakland) 100's at 4 p.m.

Cal To Meet Idaho State In Opener

NEW YORK (AP)—California's defending NCAA basketball champion will meet Idaho State, Rocky Mountain Conference titlist, March 8 at the University of San Francisco gymnasium in the first round of this season's competition.

Another first round game will pit Southern California or UCLA against the Skyline Conference champion at Provo, Utah, either March 7 or March 9.

Games Friday and Saturday at Los Angeles between USC and UCLA will decide the at-large entry.

Utah leads Utah State by one game for the Skyline title. Each has two to play.

Another first round NCAA game will involve either Oregon or Oregon State against the Border conference champion at a site and on a date to be determined.

Winners will advance to the Seattle regional March 11-12. At Seattle, the winner of the California-Idaho State game will meet the champion of the West Coast Athletic Conference. Pepperdine and Loyola are tied for the lead in the WCAC with Santa Clara still in the race.

Richmond Fight Stopped In 8th

RICHMOND (UPI) — Oakland heavyweight Ocie Chatmon handed John Balla of Stockton his first professional loss last night in spectacular fashion.

Referee Frankie Carter stopped the bout in the eighth round as Chatmon battered his opponent about the ring. There were no knockdowns, but Balla was bleeding from the mouth and eye.

In the co-main event, John Cate, 128, Oakland, decisioned Eddie Moore, 129, Oakland. Moore was down for an eight count in the third round, and Cate hit the canvas for a nine count in the tenth.

He gained the prize money from ertering eight tournaments. He won two of them. Jack Fleck of Los Angeles comes next with $11,200

Ted To Test Ailing Neck; He May Retire

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Aging, ailing Ted Williams, the last of the .400 hitters, may be through with baseball.

The old hitting master, who will be 42 in August, showed up for spring training yesterday with the dour announcement that baseball's most famous pain in the neck may force him into retirement

"I guess there is considerable doubt whether or not I'll be able to play this year," he said. "I'm going to test things out here and then make up my mind."

Ted suffered the ailment, a muscle inflammation of his back and neck, in spring training here last season. He was bothered by it all season long ard his batting average slipped below .300 for the first time in his career. His .254 average pulled his lifetime mark down three points to .346.

"I had hopes the pain would go away with rest and some exercise during the off-season," Williams said. "It hasn't got any better.

"I decided to come out here and give it a try anyhow. I figured the hot sun might take it out of me. If it doesn't there's nothing left for me to do but retire."

Williams, the oldest active player in the majors, is starting his 22nd year with the Red Sox. In that period, with time out for World War II and the Korean War, he has won the American League batting title six times, the home run crown four times and led the league in runs batted in four times. His most outstanding achievement was a .406 batting average in 1941.

He took a 50-minute workout yesterday, donning a uniform to do some running and throwing.

Fullmer Brothers To Share Spotlight

WEST JORDAN, Utah (UPI)—Young Don Fullmer will share the spotlight with his more famous brother Saturday night in the fourth talent fight card sponsored by the Intermountain Boxing Club.

Don will meet Billy Blair of Phoenix, Ariz., in a scheduled eight-round main event at Marv Jenson's gym in West Jordan. However, brother Gene, the NBA middleweight champion, will also appear on the show.

The older Fullmer, who defends his crown April 20 against Joey Giardello at Bozeman, Mont., will spar four rounds against Nathan Ish and Leo Owens.

Larkspur's Proposed Zoning Law To Get Council Scrutiny Tonight

Larkspur's proposed new zoning ordinance, containing comprehensive advertising sign regulations, will be unveiled to the city council tonight at a meeting at 8 o'clock in Larkspur City Hall.

Prepared by the city planning commission, the 35-page measure represents a complete revision of the city's present zoning law and includes many new provisions.

The council is expected to discuss the ordinance and set dates for the required public hearings.

If the measure is adopted, it will no longer be necessary for the council to act on variances and use permits processed by the planning commission, unless an appeal is filed within 10 days of a commission decision.

Application fees would be raised from $10 to $15 for adjustments and variances, and from $25 to $50 for use permits and rezoning requests.

The ordinance would establish a new zone, "A-P," for administrative and professional uses. These include legal, medical-dental and accounting services, advertising agencies and design studios, business offices and radio and television studios.

Minimum building site in an "A-P" zone would be 7,500 square feet, with maximum lot coverage of 40 per cent. Buildings would be limited to a height of 35 feet. Those built within 35 feet of a residential district could not exceed the height of existing dwellings in the immediate vicinity.

A duplex district, now designated "R-2-R," would become "R-2." An apartment district, now "R-2," would be "R-3." Other zoning designations would remain the same: "R-1" for one-family residential, "B-1" for business and "L-1" for light industrial.

One-family homes could no longer be built in a business district, but upstairs apartments would be allowed over a business firm.

In R-3 zones, building heights would be governed by site area regulations, with multiple residences requiring at least 2,000 square feet per family.

The proposed ordinance contains an entirely new section on parking and loading facilities. It would require at least one offstreet parking space per dwelling unit in R-1 and R-2 districts; one and one-half spaces per unit in R-3; one space per 250 square feet of gross floor area in A-P, and three spaces per 500 square feet of gross floor area in B-1 and L-1.

For dewllings located in a business district, at least one and one-half parking spaces per unit, located on the same lot with the building, would be required.

SIGN CONTROL

Adoption of the ordinance would give Larkspur its first detailed advertising sign control. No signs except those listed in the measure would be permitted. Non-conforming signs existing when the ordinance was passed could be continued, but not enlarged or altered.

Specifically prohibited would be roof signs, signs projecting above the eave or parapet of a building and any which could be mistaken for a traffic signal.

Maximum permissable size of advertising signs would be as follows:

All residential districts: Three square feet for all real estate or owner identification signs, and one and one-half square feet for those advertising home occupations and professional offices. No red illumination would be allowed.

SIGN REGULATIONS

Administrative - professional districts: One-half square foot per lineal foot of building frontage for attached identification signs; 12 square feet for free-standing identification name plates; six square feet for real estate signs; three square feet for directional signs in offstreet parking and loading areas, and 20 square feet for temporary political signs. Illumination would be permitted, but no flashing signs or blinkers.

Business districts: One square foot per lineal foot of building frontage for identification signs, but not to exceed 100 square feet; six square feet for directional signs in offstreet parking and loading areas; 20 square feet for church bulletin boards, and 100 square feet for additional identification signs on a business site of five acres or more. (Real estate and political signs same as in A-P districts.)

LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

Light industrial districts: One square foot per lineal foot of building frontage for identification signs, but not to exceed 200 square feet. (Other signs same as in business districts.)

Chairman Price J. Hall of the planning commission said the ordinance makes no attempt to conform with highway billboard regulations of the state Division of Highways, "because the commission does not believe state policy has been clearly enunciated."

Present city laws on the keeping of animals would be rescinded by the proposed measure, animal control now being a function of the county health department.

The ordinance would add some new definitions, change several others in the existing measure and delete those which duplicate definitions contained in the uniform building code.

Solons Get Bill On Pedestrian Malls

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill authorizing conversion of city streets into pedestrian malls, and prescribing how it can be done, was introduced in the Legislature yesterday.

Assemblyman Ernest R. Geddes (R-Claremont) introduced the bill in the lower chamber. The problem was placed on special legislative call by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Car Insurance Rates Lowered For Marinites

Reduced premiums for comprehensive auto insurance on private passenger cars became effective yesterday for Marin policy holders.

The saving in Marin is $3 for each holder.

The National Automobile Underwriters Assn. estimated the reductions at more than 2 million dollars statewide. The lower rates apply on such coverage as fire, theft, wind storm, flood, hail and glass breakage. They are applicable to approximately 200 companies which are members of the association.

Contra Costa County is the only one where there will be a premium raise—$2. Imperial will have a saving of $13, and the range is downward to $2.

The premium on compact cars, announced recently, also went in effect yesterday, with commission premiums reduced 10 per cent from regular premiums.

'INVEST IN KIDS'

Club Seeks Donations For Schoolgrounds

The San Pedro School Dads Club is looking for "investors" —persons willing to contribute $10 apiece toward completion of the playground at the school in Loch Lomond.

A house-to-house canvass is now being conducted by club members in the school area to raise the $1,250 needed as the club's share toward installation of an automatic sprinkler system on the school grounds.

Each contributor will receive a certificate stating that he has an "investment in our children's future," president Ernest Haenggi said.

The San Rafael Board of Education last fall advanced $2,500 for installation of the sprinkler system and the club pledged it would pay half that amount.

The club two years ago decided its major project would be improvement of the school playground which then was hard and covered with rocks. In 1958 it spent $350 to level the field, and the members cleared it of rocks. Later the club spent $1,600 for hauling earth to the playground and $100 for leveling again. The board of education furnished the earth.

If more than the $1,250 is raised, the money will be used to complete the playground benches, fences and other facilities, Haenggi said.

The Dads Club has donated and planted Christmas trees on the school grounds, promoted the idea of an underpass across Point San Pedro road to the school, requested the summer recreation program last year, and sponsored the San Pedro Little League team.

Donations may be sent to the San Pedro School Dads Club at the school, 500 Point San Pedro road.

Those working on the money-raising campaign include the officers: Haenggi; Roland Hellman, vice president; Ronald Giambastiani, secretary; Merrill Hinrichs, treasurer, and the directors: James W. Marin City Move Will Start Soon

The first families are expected to be moved into the Marin County Housing Authority's new low-rent housing project in Marin City between March 15 and April 1, Bert Klahn, executive director of the authority, said today.

He said the contractor expects to have the units ready by that time for acceptance by the authority and "the families will be moved into the units as quickly as possible."

In 35 to 40 days, Klahn said, it is estimated that 135 families will be occupying the new buildings. A dedication ceremony for the 300-unit project will be held March 19.

Klahn said the project is unusual in that families are being relocated in the Marin City area without eviction. This has been done, in some cases, by transferring families from area to area within the project.

Church Retreat To Be Radio Topic

"What is a retreat?" Kitty Oppenheimer will ask on her "Open House" program at 11 a. m. tomorrow on KTIM.

The March 6 Teen Retreat, to which have been invited hundreds of Marin County Catholic high school students attending public schools, will be the subject of the interview. (The event opens with Mass at 9 a. m. in the Marin Catholic High School chapel, with Rev. Bernard Cummins, retreatmaster, as celebrant.)

Meeting Speaker

Carl Schick, a partner in Swift and Co., San Francisco investment firm, who lives at 359 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, will be guest speaker at the Pacific Coast Gas Assn.'s public round table at the Biltmore Hotel in Santa Barbara Saturday. He will speak on shareholder relations.

LOBSTER, sumptuous as a Thermidor, sets a glamorous pace with butter rosettes for crusty rolls and crisp, green salad. It is superb for family get togethers and for buffet luncheons.

Lobster Thermidor A Colorful Dish

LOBSTER THERMIDOR
4 servings

- 2 Rock Lobster Tails, 1½ lbs. each
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1½ cups half and half cream
- 2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ cup (½ stick) butter

Preheated broiler

- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ pound fresh mushrooms, cleaned and sliced
- 2 tablespoons cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook lobster in rapidly boiling, salted water 10 to 12 minutes. Remove meat from shells and cut into ½-inch cubes. In a saucepan, melt butter. Blend in flour, mustard, salt, paprika and cayenne pepper; gradually add half and half and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Turn off heat, add Cheddar cheese and Worcestershire sauce and stir until cheese melts. In a small frypan melt butter; saute green pepper and mushrooms about 5 minutes. Combine lobster meat and vegetables with the cheese sauce thoroughly; fill lobster shells with this mixture. Top each with 1 tablespoon of cracker crumbs, 1 tablespoon melted butter and 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese. Broil until sauce is bubbly and lightly browned. Serve immediately.

Pot-Roast Recipe Raises Chef's Ego

There are so many different ways in which the kitchen captain can glorify so-called everyday dishes.

During the fall and winter months, a pot-roast is a welcomed dish . . . one highly endorsed by the gentlemen in the household. Recipe variations in preparing a pot-roast are always a feather in the homemaker's hat.

This recipe is called Pot-roast with apples. Featured in the recipe in addition to the beef arm or blade pot-roast are soy sauce, chopped onion, green pepper strips, apple slices, raisins and brown sugar.

Slow moist cooking is necessary when preparing a less-tender cut of meat. In this particular instance, a combination of water and soy sauce acts as the braising medium.

POT-ROAST

- 3 to 4-pound arm or blade pot roast
- 3 tablespoons lard or drippings
- ½ cup water
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 medium green pepper, cut in strips
- 1 can (16 ounces) unsweetened apple slices
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Brown pot-roast in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add water, soy sauce, pepper and onion. Cover tightly and simmer for 2½ to 3½ hours or until meat is tender. Add green pepper, apples, raisins and brown sugar. Continue cooking for 30 minutes, or until green pepper and raisins are done.

Taste Treat

Green pepper in the house? It's good chopped and added to hamburgers or meat loaf.

Instant Cafe Betters Beef Brisket Flavor

It's a new idea in the preparation of beef brisket. Instant coffee in addition to sliced onion, brown sugar, Worcestershire sauce and catchup combine to form a zesty glaze. Fine, dry bread crumbs give this brisket a crunchy coating . . . another new idea in beef brisket preparation.

An expert in recipe development and meat cookery, comments that this idea might be new but not only because of the unusual glaze or topping but because of the meat cut used.

Many homemakers may order beef brisket in the form of corned beef while eating out but how many actually prepare the fresh cut of beef brisket in the home?

Cooking procedure is simple. Cover with water and simmer slowly, allowing about 3 to 4 hours for a piece weighing between 4 and 5 pounds.

ZESTY BEEF BRISKET

- 4 to 5-pound beef brisket
- Water
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ easpoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon instant coffee
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- ½ cup catchup
- ¼ cup dry bread crumbs.

Cover meat with water. Add onion, salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer 3 to 4 hours, or until meat is tender. Remove meat and place in a shallow baking dish. Combine coffee, sugar, Worcestershire sauce and catchup. Spread over meat. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 15 minutes. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Don't Overcook

You know you have overcooked yellow vegetables when they have lost color; you have overcooked white ones when they become dark.

Pork Takes Over Featured Spot On Many Meat Counters

(AP)—Pork takes over the featured spot on many meat counters this week, with frozen pork stocks 40 per cent greater than a year ago.

Pork loins head the list of weekend specials. In new York they are down as much as 16 cents a pound from a week ago and in Washington they are down 10 cents.

Other featured pork includes shoulders, smoked shank and slice bacon.

Beef round roast and frying chickens also are among the specials. Prices of fryers are generally down.

Leg of lamb prices are up somewhat. Butter and egg prices fluctuated.

Along the Eastern seaboard fish is featured in variety, including swordfish steaks, lobster tails, smelts, halibut steaks and scallops.

Best buys among vegetables covered a wide field—cabbage, carrots, endive, escarole, lettuce, small and medium yellow onions, eastern potatoes, sweet potatoes and turnips.

In the good-buy classification are beets, broccoli, pascal celery, mushrooms, cooking greens, green peppers and avacados.

These items are expensive: Florida snap beans, corn, Chinese cabbage, eggplant and squash; California cauliflower, broccoli rabe from North and South Carolina, Western artichokes and asparagus. Cuban cucumbers and vine-ripened tomatoes from Florida, Cuba and the Bahamas.

Top bargains in fruit are Florida grapefruit and oranges, California oranges, Eastern apples and bananas.

Children's Casserole Special

Homemakers often make a special effort to plan and serve the breadwinner's favorite meal and sometimes it's a good idea to give special consideration to favorite foods of the small fry in the family.

Sausage patties, mashed sweet potatoes, orange juice, brown sugar, orange slices and miniature marshmallows are the ingredients which make up this so-called small-fry casserole. All these foods are ones which the youngsters should enjoy.

As a tip to the homemaker, this recipe is one in which bulk pork sausage can be used . . . just another way to include pork in the diet.

POTATO CASSEROLE

- 1 pound pork sausage
- 1 can (1pound 7 ounces) sweet potatoes, drained and mashed
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 orange, peeled and cut into 8 slices
- ½ cup miniature marshmallows

Shape sausages into 8 patties. Brown lightly. Combine potatoes, orange juice and sugar and spoon into a greased 1½-quart casserole. Arrange the patties and orange slices alternately in a circle around the edge of the casserole. Sprinkle most of marshmallows in the center and a few on the sausage and oranges. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

Spruce Up Cooked Pork With Fruit Combination

Actually, spring isn't too far away. Now is the time to try out some recipes that might appease your family's appetite whims when the warmer months come to stay.

This recipe might even serve a dual purpose. Here's why! First, a pleasing combination of pineapple tidbits, grapefruit juice and maraschino cherries blend flavors to provide a colorful and pleasing flavored sauce to dress up slices of cooked pork.

Leftover meat slices, pork in this particular case, can be an asset to the home maker. Instead of serving the fruit sauce over heated pork slices, the slices are first dipped in a seasoned egg-flour batter. After being thoroughly coated, they are browned on both sides in lard or drippings.

Then the fruit sauce sets as a complementary escort to the coated pork slices.

PORK and FRUIT BLEND

- ¾ pound cooked pork slices
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 can (8¾ ounces) pineapple tidbits
- ½ cup grapefruit juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons sliced maraschino cherries
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon salt

Drain pineapple, reserving liquid. Add grapefruit juice and cornstarch to pineapple liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Add pineapple and cherries and heat through.

Beat together egg, flour and salt. Thoroughly coat cooked pork slices with batter. Brown on both sides in lard or drippings. Serve brown pork slices with fruit sauce. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Attractive Garnish

Round lemon slices, to be served with fish, look particularly attractive if you sprinkle them with paprika and perch a tiny sprig of parsley in the center of each. If you want to be really fancy, notch the edges before garnishing.

Prevents Sticking

When you use a pastry canvas and stockinet cover over your rolling pin make sure you rub flour down into the meshes of the cloth on both the canvas and stockinet cover. This should keep dough from sticking.

Furniture Shopping An Ego Threat

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman is sure of herself when it comes to cooking or buying a hat, but furniture frustrates her.

A sample survey of 400 house wives by Pierre Martineau, manager of the research and marketing bureau of the Chicago Tribune, shows furnishing her home leaves a woman in a quandary.

"The purchase of furniture is continually delayed by the homemaker because she views the furniture shopping situation as a potential threat to her ego," he said.

Martineau and his staff sought to solve the secrets of a woman's thinking when she looks for furniture.

"Why," they asked, "does a person or family take a trip to Europe, buy a car every two or three years and yet their furniture is 25 years old?"

Making the selection and finding a theme for furnishing her home fills her with anxiety, the survey found.

As a result, furniture shopping is continually delayed. Throughout life, people find reasons for putting off purchases. Three out of four persons give one of the following reasons:

"We can't afford it" or "We don't need it" or "We'll wait until the children get older."

Martineau believes these reasons are not valid when compared with what the average family needs and can afford.

Because they are uncertain about what furniture to choose, most women tend toward the middle of the road in their choice of furniture style.

Most people buy modern because their friends have modern, and they can feel relatively secure that it will be accepted.

Extremes of ultra modern or period furniture are avoided because they may subject her to criticism.

After making the choice, the housewife goes through a period when she is not sure she made the right choice. In time she becomes "used to" the furniture but remains somewhat indifferent to it.

Newlyweds often feel that "this will do until we get on our feet," then they will refurnish.

During the first four years of housekeeping, only 15 per cent of the housewives considered durability as a factor in furniture purchases. During the fifth and ninth years 32 per cent said durability was an important consideration.

A woman hesitates to call in outside help of an interior decorator. She says in so doing that she can't afford to do what she believes a decorator would want to do.

But Martineau suspects that she declines this aid because she fears she will be admitting her own failure.

Instead she likes to dream a Cinderella dream of how she would like to furnish her home by looking at homemaking magazines.

Furniture is seen as an aesthetic good. In order to appreciate this good, the housewife believes that one must possess a faculty called taste. Few women believe they have this gift. But they feel they should.

Despite this handicap 64 per cent buy furniture on their first trip to one store. Those who shop around and return number 36 per cent.

The search ends in a neighborhood shop for 44 per cent.

Martineau found that 58 per cent of the women interviewed said they didn't like the furniture they have. They tend to keep a stiff upper lip when hearing friends discuss their furnishings.

"For these women, furniture is indeed an Achilles heel."

Primrose Tea Of Inverness Club To Be Held In Chambot Home

The Primrose Tea, sponsored for more than a quarter century by the Inverness Garden Club, will be held this year from 1 to 4 o'clock March 15 at one of the most noted houses in the area now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Mel of Berkeley.

The tea table at the affair will be laden with homemade breads and members will observe a custom as old as the tea—the wearing of fresh flower hats. For sale will be primroses, miniature gardens and bird feeders.

The tea is open to the public.

The house for the tea was built more than 50 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Auguste F. Chamot after the Boxer Rebellion in China. It has a colorful history.

Chambot was first noted in this area in 1895 when at the age of 28, he married Annie Elizabeth McCarthy of San Francisco.

The couple moved to China and opened a hotel there. When the Boxer uprising occurred, it was they who saved a group of Europeans. Every day for 78 days, they would load a cart with food, Chamot driving and his wife in the back with a gun. For this act Chamot was decorated by Pope Leo VIII, the Mikado and France's Legion of Honor. He was also given a large sum of prize money and with this, the couple returned to the United States, came to Inverness and built a mansion in which they lived until it was partially destroyed by the 1906 earthquake.

Persons who lived in Inverness then have fantastic tales of the menagerie of strange animals, the wild sailing parties, the number of servants and the grand manner in which Chamot lived. The earthquake destroyed not only the Inverness property, but San Francisco property which the couple owned, and left them destitute.

It was decided that Chamot would gather up such Oriental treasures as remained and go to New York to sell them. This he did, but gathered, in the process, another love. Although the Inverness house was repaired, the fortunes of the Chamots went from bad to worse. The house was eventually sold and stood empty many long years. It became "the haunted house."

Chairman and co-chairman of the affair are Mrs. Richard Grant and Mrs. Montague Barton. Mrs. Irene Kelly is president of the Inverness Garden Club.

Sandwiches Historical

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sandwiches have become such an established part of the American diet that many persons think they're a native invention. But early versions of today's sandwich were used in Babylonian, Hebrew, Greek and Roman religious rituals.

A more familiar form — a filling between two slices of bread — is credited to the Earl of Sandwich, a devotee of gambling in 18th century England. It's said he devised this abbreviated meal so he wouldn't waste time eating.

Smith-Gould Rites Performed In Napa

Bouquets of white stock and white gladioli were at the altar of the First Presbyterian Chapel in Napa, when Robert Daniel Smith of Novato, claimed Margaret Jean Gould of Napa as his bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Herbert Gould Jr. of Napa, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith of Novato are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess silhouette gown in white organzine taffeta fashioned with sequin studded lace applique flowers on the bateau neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held by a pearl coronet and she carried a nosegay of white roses and white orchid with stephanotis and ivy.

Dorothy Gould of Napa, as maid of honor for her sister, and matron of honor, Mrs. Ronald Dickenson of Corvallis, Ore., another sister wore gowns of apple green chiffon over taffeta with draped bodices with bow details at the shoulder. They wore white veil hats with green bow detail and matching shoes and carried white roses and carnation nosegays.

Michael Smith of Novato was best man for his brother. Ushers included Wayne McCombs of Berkeley and Robert Gould, the bride's brother, of Napa.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gould chose a beige silk organza with beige accessories and hat. She had a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother had an ivory brocade sheath with pink and beige accessories and hat. Her flowers were pink roses and cymbidium orchids.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a blue linen suit with matching veil hat and black accessories. She had a white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Napa Union High School and the University of California. She is a member of the Job's Daughters and College Women's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gould of Napa and Mrs. M. J. Jeckell of Berkeley are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from Balboa High School in San Francisco and the University of California. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and the Mask and Dagger Society. He is now employed at Langendorf Bakeries, San Francisco. Mrs. Errol Whitson of San Rafael is his sister, and Michael Smith of Novato, his brother.

The newlyweds will reside in San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Daniel Smith are pictured following their recent wedding in the First Presbyterian Chapel in Napa. The bride is the former Margaret Jean Gould. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Smith of Novato.

Supervisors Approve Trustee Redistricting

A plan to redistrict Marin County Board of Education representation won the approval of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The plan will spread the seven representatives over seven districts instead of the present five areas. The plan was evolved last week by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, and was presented today by Superintendant of Schools Virgil S. Hollis.

The seven districts will be made up of the following school districts:

1. Novato Unified, San Jose.
2. San Rafael, Dixie, San Quentin.
3. San Anselmo, Fairfax, Lagunitas, Nicasio.
4. Kentfield, Ross, Larkspur, Reed.
5. Mill Valley, Sausalito.
6. West Marin, Pt. Reyes, Bolinas, Stinson Beach.
7. Tomales Union, Tomales Joint Union High, Marshal, Laguna Joint, Union Joint, Burdell, Lincoln.

The districts were set up as nearly as possible on a population and general interest basis. State law has required the redistricting.

The plan, in effect, splits the Ross Valley and rural Marin areas, and provides for the election of persons to the newly created districts when terms of present members expire.

A new rural area will not come into existence until next year, when the terms of two members residing in the Sausalito-Mill Valley area expire.

Women Voters To End Series Of Workshops

Evening workshop members will report their findings to a unit meeting at 10 a.m. March 8 at the home of Mrs. James Keeley Brown, 40 Harcourt street, San Rafael. Morning workshop members will report to the unit meeting at 1 p.m. March 10 at the home of Mrs. John Chambers, 7 Turnagain road, Kentfield.

Gain In Sales Reported By Heater Firm

H. C. Little Burner Co. of San Rafael, heating equipment manufacturing firm, last year experienced a 72 per cent sales increase over 1958 and the volume is expected to double again this year, announced John V. Youngblood, general sales manager.

The company this year will go into production of new lines of heating equipment, to be added to its present "Safti-Vent" line of sealed gas wall heaters and its gas and electric water heaters, boilers and incinerators, he said.

Planned for production, he said, is a sealed wall heater that can be recessed in walls between studding and a factory-assembled sealed heater that can be installed in window frames, similar to many air conditioning units.

Under a stepped-up sales and promotion program called "Operation Orbit, 1960," said Youngblood, the company hopes to double its sales volume this year.

Mill Valley Pupils Show High IQs

Mill Valley School District children again showed a high level of intelligence in standard IQ tests administered this year, guidance consultant Robert Davidson told the board of trustees Monday night.

The median score is 113, Davidson said, indicating the pupils should achieve well above grade level in the skilled subjects.

Comparing the achievement scores with IQ scores shows the pupils' potential is being realized, he said. Except in arithmetic most children are scoring one grade level higher than their IQ scores would indicate, he reported.

1st Notes On Marin City Project Sold

Preliminary notes for financing the urban renewal project of the Marin County Redevelopment Agency in the amount of $986,000 were sold yesterday to Salomon Brothers and Hutzler of New York City.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the agency, said Salomon Brothers, is associated with the Chase Manhattan Bank, bid an interest rate of 2.74 per cent and offered a $20 premium.

He said the firm has been notified it was successful bidder and formal action will be taken at the next meeting of the redevelopment agency.

Other bidders, Klahn said, were Morgan Guarantee Trust Co. of New York, bidding 2.74 per cent and $14 premium, and Bank of America, which bid 2.78 per cent with a premium of $9.
